REFINERY BLAST, FIRE HIT INDIANA CITY

TERROR STRICKEN. European women, one holding a double-barrel shotgun, huddle in French government headquarters in mining town of Oued Zem, French Morocco recently, after a bloody raid on community by nationalist partisans of exiled Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef. Most of the town's 11,000 inhabitants fled in fear of French reprisals. Many of surviving 700 Europeans sought safety in the headquarters. Officials said raiding party killed 50 Europeans and most of the victims were children.

French Push For Morocco Peace Treaty

New Hitch Develops In Conference With Nationalist Leaders

AIX LES BAINS, France (AP)—A new hitch developed in the French-Moroccan political talks today when the Istiqlal (independence party) demanded the return to France of deposed Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef before it would join a proposed coalition government.

Pierre July, French minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs, told reporters this could not be accepted. The French position, July said, is that the government should be formed before Ben Youssef is allowed to return from his two-year Madagascar exile.

Upsets Timetable

This development upset the conference timetable. French Premier Edgar Faure originally planned to fly back to Paris tonight with an agreement in his pocket for cabinet approval tomorrow. Faure will remain here for "supplementary" conferences.

The French leaders apparently weren't too concerned over a threat by Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa to rebel against one key point in the reported plan—that providing for his own ouster. The nationalists have demanded Moulay Arafa's removal as a first step toward any agreement.

Cabinet To Study It

The proposed settlement was to be put before the full French Cabinet Sunday. Still an official secret pending Cabinet approval, it was reported reliably to be based on these points:

1. Removal of Moulay Arafa and his replacement by a council of the throne—a sort of regency. The nationalist-backed former sultan, Mohammed Ben Youssef, would be permitted to return to France from his exile in Madagascar pending a final decision on his future. He was deposed two years ago.

2. Establishment of a government of national union under the council of the throne. The government would represent the main Moroccan political groups.

3. Negotiations between France and the government of national union on a new convention defining their relationship.

Successful Ben Youssef

Moulay Arafa's statement Friday that he would not give up his throne came as a surprise, but apparently was not regarded as a serious threat by French officials. Moulay Arafa was picked by the French and pro-French Moroccan groups to succeed Ben Youssef two years ago.

It also was believed Moroccan Resident General Gilbert Grandval would be replaced in a move to satisfy demands of French colonists who have accused him of advocating a "soft" policy toward the nationalists. The colonists say this encouraged last weekend's violence.

Grandval, who arrived in Paris by plane today to confer with Faure, told reporters:

"Calm reigned when I left Morocco. It still reigns. I have had confirmation of that by radio en route. The punitive expeditions against bands at Oued Zem and Khenifra are ended. That is all I can tell you."

Whiting Asks Help; Flames Reach Homes

1,000 Firemen Battle To Control Inferno at Standard Oil Co. Plant

WHITING, Ind. (AP) — A terrific blast shattered a 26-story high-octane gasoline cracking tower today and spread flames which threatened the city of Whiting.

Whiting police said that Gov. George Craig of Indiana had been asked to send National Guard units to help as gasoline from the blazing Standard Oil Co. (Ind.) refinery seeped into sewer mains and flowed westward into the community of 10,000.

Fire Capt. Joseph Kasper said the Whiting mayor declared a state of emergency, and ordered all of the city's policemen and firemen to duty.

Kasper said that some houses close to the plant had caught fire, and the blaze was "out of control."

West to southwest winds tended to help keep the fire from spreading.

The blast which blew up the world's largest hydroformer — an installation for making low grade gasolines into high-octane gasoline —caused deaths of two persons, injuries to at least 17, and did several millions of dollars in damage to the plant.

Raging fire in the plant was fought by some 1,000 firemen who sought to save 20 to 30 tanks, each reportedly containing one million gallons of gasoline or oil.

Members of the Whiting post of the American Legion stood guard over blast damaged homes and stores under a pall of billowing oily black smoke which rose miles into the air.

At least 50 houses close to the plant were badly damaged. Three collapsed completely. Windows were shattered in Crown Point, 20 miles away.

The smoke plume was clearly visible from Chicago 16 miles northwest of the blast scene.

The gigantic blast shattered the world's largest hydroformer—used to convert low-octane gasolines into high-octane fuel. The big installation, capable of producing

British Back Move by Dulles To End Israel-Arab Conflict

Probe Is Slated On Handling of Security Risks

Special Subcommittee Of Senate To Review 11 Controversial Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration's handling of "security risks" — A prospective 1956 campaign issue — is ticketed for a public inquiry next week by a special Senate subcommittee.

Chairman Johnston (D-SC) announced without elaboration Friday the Monday-through-Thursday hearings would cover 11 cases, including the controversial treatment of Wolf Ladejinsky and Abraham Chasanow.

Ladejinsky is the Russian-born land reform specialist fired by Secretary of Agriculture Benson as a security risk last December and hired with full security clearance by the Foreign Operations Administration in January. He now holds a top U.S. foreign aid post in Indochina, advising on land reform. He works for the International Cooperation Administration, FOA's successor.

Benson has since ordered his department's records changed so Ladejinsky would no longer be listed as a security risk.

U.S. To Guarantee Borders if Pact Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain today threw its support behind the dramatic American proposal to guarantee the boundaries of Israel and rival Arab states if they work out a permanent peace settlement.

Eisenhower administration officials place high hopes on the offer made by Secretary of State Dulles Friday in a speech before the Council on Foreign Relations in New York.

A Foreign Office statement issued in London today gave British support, saying the American proposal is "an important contribution toward solution of the most critical, outstanding problem in mideast."

The statement said also that Britain is ready to join in the U.S. proposed loan to assist Israel in paying compensation to Arab refugees in Palestine.

Dulles stressed in his speech that the United States is acting as a "friend of both Israelis and Arabs."

He emphasized, too, that he made the proposals "with the authority of President Eisenhower."

The move constituted an unprecedented American bid to settle the long standing Israel-Arab conflict once and for all. It was backed by other offers of U.S.

Armed Robber Escapes After Holdup Nets $4

Masked Gunman Flees Route 23 Restaurant In Stolen Automobile

A masked armed robber took $4 from a customer last night around 11 p.m. at White's Ashland Station and Restaurant, located on Route 23 about two miles north of Waldo, the Marion County sheriff's office reported.

As reported to the sheriff's office, the robber drove into the station from the south and parked on the west side of the pumps. As an attendant approached the car, the man pulled out a shotgun and forced him into the restaurant, where the station operator's wife, Mrs. Warren White, a waitress, Elizabeth Axline of near Marion, and four customers were.

The customers included John Ullom of near Marion, James Wray of near Marion, and David Whiston and May Whiston, both of Detroit, Mich.

As the robber entered the restaurant, he told Whiston to put his billfold on the counter and to remove the money from it. Whiston did this and the robber pocketed the ..

One of the customers tried to move closer to the robber, Mrs. White said, when the robber reminded them that his gun was loaded.

To show them, he threw back the bolt of the 20-gauge, bolt-action shotgun and they saw it was empty, the report stated. He immediately threw a shell into it and ordered the occupants to stay back.

He then told Ullom to open the cash drawer. When Ullom replied

Unsung Local Officials Draw Praise in Flood

Everybody Pitches In, From Mayors Down to Sewer Commissioners

TORRINGTON, Conn. (AP) — The flood disasters have dealt a blow to any idea that politicians have little to do except smoke big cigars and lead lives of ease.

The new look applies from the top officials down to the lowliest sewer commissioner in the smallest communities.

They really have been putting out since the floods struck the Northeast a week ago. Many have slept scarcely a wink since then.

Ordinarily you scarcely give a thought to your water commissioner. The water usually runs all right, so what has he got to do?

But, came the disaster. Then the people of the stricken communities learned that the local water and sewer commissioners actually were acquainted with the whole piping system, where the breaks were and how to get them fixed. The health officials were right on the job.

President Eisenhower symbolized concern of public officials when he broke off his Colorado vacation to fly into the flood areas for conferences with governors of the flooded states.

In Connecticut, Gov. Abraham Ribicoff has visited virtually every

Red Cross Here Is Short Of Goal for Flood Relief

Contributions to the American Red Cross' flood relief emergency fund are still needed if Marion County is to reach its $2,500 goal, Lowell Douce, disaster chairman, said Friday.

As of Friday afternoon, total contributions to the fund amounted to $1,094. Contributions are being accepted at all city and county banks, and pledges or requests for picking up contributions may be phoned in to the Marion County Chapter office at 2-1653.

The need for the money, to be used in the New England and Pennsylvania flood-stricken areas, is still great, Douce said.

Ike Discusses Labor Matters With Mitchell

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower booked a conference with Secretary of Labor Mitchell today for what the Cabinet officer called a "discussion of labor department problems."

Mitchell declined to elaborate on arrival in town Friday night for the meeting at the summer White House. James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen he had "no idea" why the conference was arranged.

The President spent a day of trout fishing at Pine, Colo., about 45 miles southwest of here in the Rocky Mountains.

The President and his party caught enough fish for a filling lunch, cooked by the chief executive himself.

In a pine grove across the way from the road Eisenhower could be seen with a white apron tied around his waist, at work over an open fire.

Traffic Mishap Claims Life of Bucyrus Man

BUCYRUS — David W. Vinson, 25, of Bucyrus, died at 6:05 p.m. Friday in Bucyrus City Hospital of injuries suffered in a one-car accident Friday morning. He is Crawford County's fourth traffic fatality of the year.

Vinson's wife, Margery, 22, a passenger in the car, is still in "critical" condition at the hospital here. She suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, dislocated right arm and possible head injuries.

The accident, according to investigating state highway patrolmen, occurred at 12:45 a.m. Friday on U. S. Route 30-N, six miles east of Bucyrus. The car driven by Vinson went out of control on a curve and skidded across the highway, crashing through a fence and into a field. Both Mr. and Mrs Vinson were thrown from the car and were unconscious when they

Ohio State Fair Draws 78,000 In Opening Day

Weekend Attractions Include Two National Horse Shows, Rodeo

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Weekend crowds, free from routine weekday business, flocked to the 101st Ohio State Fair today. There's a merry-go-round of activities that includes two national horse shows, a rodeo, harness racing, youth talent contest, fashion show and music.

You could almost smell the hot dogs and candy floss as far away as Broad and High Streets, the heart of Columbus.

Two events marred opening day yesterday. A ride show foreman, William H. Snyder, 36, of Columbus, suffered a compound fracture of his right arm while adjusting a cog gear on a merry-go-round and Hopalong Cassidy failed to show up at last night's rodeo.

A fair spokesman said a "large number" of fair visitors demanded refunds when the cowboy star did not appear. He was featured at the afternoon rodeo and early announcements said he also would be at the evening show. Fair officials said they were unable to explain the mixup.

The junior fair queen selected last night is Virginia Davidson, 17, of Hillsboro. The pretty maiden nudged out a double feature attraction, twins Lora and Sara Lee Darke of New Vienna, competing as a single entry from Clinton County.

Yesterday was Youth Day with an estimated 78,000 fair fans flocking onto the grounds for the opener of the eight-day event. Among first visitors was Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who described the live-

Balanced Budget, Tax Cut Goals

New Congress Will Seek Sharp Foreign Aid Slash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Byrd (D-Va) and George (D-Ga) predicted today Congress, shooting for a balanced budget and tax reduction, will take sharp aim next year at the foreign aid program.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said he believes substantial reductions can be made under the $2,700,000,000 Congress voted last session for foreign military and economic assistance.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said he will support "drastic" reductions in aid funds next year, although he resisted efforts to cut this year's total below the amount finally approved.

May Be About Same

President Eisenhower asked last January for 3½ billion dollars in new foreign aid money. There are indications his new request next January may be about the same.

George said "further drastic cuts can be made in foreign aid as one means of attaining a balanced budget in the next fiscal year beginning July 1. If such a balance appears certain, he said he will support reductions in individual income taxes. George, who also serves on the Finance Committee, was interviewed by telephone from his home in Vienna, Ga.

The possibility of a balanced budget in this fiscal year, ending next June 30, was raised earlier this week by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. But the secretary declined to discuss possible tax reduction, saying it was "entirely too early" to do so.

'Boom Revenue' Unstable

Byrd said in a statement the only kind of tax cuts he wants to see enacted are those made possible by a retrenchment in government spending. He said too much dependence should not be placed on "boom revenue" now flowing into the treasury on the crest of a high level of business activity

Ship Flashes Distress Call, Reports Mutiny

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1,870-ton Swedish freighter Dorotea flashed a distress call from mid-Atlantic today that she had "crew trouble" aboard and the captain was being kept prisoner in his cabin.

Erik Hogberg, manager director of the Dorotea's owners, Rederi A. B. Manhem, said he could not comment until he received further word about the reported mutiny.

Points to Need for Survey

City Expansion Hikes Sewer Problems

By CHARLES L. MARTIN

As the city continues to grow the problem of providing adequate sewage disposal also grows and present problems are compounded, City Engineer John Ruth believes.

In his opinion the first thing the city needs to tackle is the problem of sewer extensions to open up new areas adjacent to the city for housing developments. As soon as this project is well under way a second one to make necessary improvements to existing sewers inside the city should be launched, he says.

Second of a Series

This thinking is supported by the Chamber of Commerce which points out that considerable new housing is needed to encourage new industries to locate their plants in Marion.

Without sewer extension to potential home building sites, there is little likelihood the sites will be developed and available for construction of new homes, Chamber officials say.

RUTH POINTS OUT that an engineering survey is particularly needed before extension of any sewers is undertaken. Reason for this is the survey would attempt to determine what areas adjacent to the city are most likely to be developed into housing projects. Unless this is known, sewers might be extended to areas which might never be developed, Ruth explains.

But supposing the sewer system is improved and expanded, is there a possibility a new sewage treatment plant will have to be built, somewhere on the east side of town, for example?

No, say both the city engineers and Floyd Browne and Associates, consulting engineers for the city.

Browne, who was the designer, says the present sewage treatment plant on the west side of town can serve a residential and industrial population of 51,000 persons, which is 1,000 more than now live in all of Marion County, according to estimates.

BUT WHILE THE CAPACITY of the plant is large enough, the trunklines serving it are running at near capacity and at times are overloaded, Browne notes.

This may make necessary addition of other trunkline sewers from some sections of town to the plant or replacement of present lines with larger ones, he explains.

Isn't it true that the natural drainage from areas adjacent to the east side of the city is toward the southeast? he was asked.

It is, but this presents no problem, Browne points out. Modern lift stations make it possible to ignore natural drainage almost completely, at least for sanitary sewage

Pilot in Idaho Lands His Plane on Top of a Truck

OROFINO, Idaho (AP)—A pilot, letting down for a routine landing here Friday instead found himself a piggy-back passenger on a speeding truck.

"I thought he was going to take us all the way to Kamiah," a town 20 miles down the road, said startled pilot Merel Bowler, 45, after his high-wing light plane had used the 50-foot truck-trailer top as a mobile landing field.

An equally amazed truck driver, Lloyd Coons, 27, wasn't aware anything unusual had happened and continued down the highway for 200 yards after the novel landing.

"I couldn't see anything in my rear view mirror," Coons said, "then a wing tipped and I saw a shadow. I stopped."

The driver's only indication of the incident had been a slight jar and a noise.

"The speeds of the truck and the plane were so close to identical that I hardly felt anything," he said. "I thought at first I had hit a chuck hole or a bump."

No one was hurt. Damage to truck and plane was surprisingly light.

Bowler, with the plane's owner Rex Yates as passenger, was letting down for a landing at the runway which runs parallel to the highway. Trees obscured his vision of the road.

Deputy Sheriff Chris Fredricksen had perhaps the best word picture of the incident.

"It was the darndest thing you ever saw."

Branzovich No Risk, Secretary For Air Decides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Air Donald Quarles overruled an Air Force decision today and announced that Airman 3C Stephen Branzovich of Farrell, Pa., may remain in the Air Force Reserve although his father was alleged to have been a Communist sympathizer or party member.

Charles Branzovich, the father, has denied he ever was a Communist.

Quarles said he had personally considered the case and determined that Branzovich's continued membership in the reserve "is consistent with the interests of the national security."

U.S. Confirms Freed Flier's Skull Fracture

Lt. Guy Bumpass Is Flown From Seoul to Tokyo for Treatments

TOKYO (AP)—Lt. Guy H. Bumpass was flown here from Seoul today with a severe compound skull fracture, suffered when he was shot down by Red Korean gunners near the demilitarized zone Aug. 17.

Today's announcement was the first official U.S. confirmation of the Communist claim that Bumpass had a fractured skull. Since his return from the Reds last Tuesday, U.S. Army doctors and Air Force information officers have said only that he had "head cuts." Bumpass has been isolated in a military hospital.

The Air Force also announced today the flier had completely denied comments broadcast in his name over the Communist radio at Pyongyang, North Korea.

The comments were in high-flown, Communist-style language, with references to "American propaganda" and "burgeois publications."

Bumpass, whose home is in Jackson, Miss., was flying a T6 trainer and spotting plane when he was shot down. His observer, Army Capt. Charles W. Brown, West Louisville, Ky., was killed. Brown's body is now in Yokohama, en route home. It was turned over to U.S. authorities the same time Bumpass was released.

Johnston said two Agriculture Department officials on whose advice Benson fired Ladejinsky will be called to testify.

Chasanow, former chief of the chart section in the Navy's Hydrographic Office, was fired as a security risk, then cleared and reinstated. His job was abolished last fall, and he refused to accept another position the Navy offered him.

Under the Eisenhower administration loyalty-security program a government worker can be classed as a "security risk" not only for suspected disloyalty but also for excessive drinking, dope addiction or other faults deemed likely to make him unqualified to handle government secrets.

The Civil Service Commission reported 3,432 federal employes were fired for security reasons under the Eisenhower program from May 28, 1953, to March 31, 1955.

Police Investigate Vandalism Reports

Three cases of vandalism by juveniles was reported to police Friday.

At 10:30 p.m. police were called to Summit St. and Mt. Vernon Ave. to investigate a complaint some boys were shooting out street light bulbs with a BB gun. When the police arrived they found the street light out and another at Summit and Jamison St. also shot out. They also spotted three youths running between houses at Forest Lawn Blvd. and Jamison St. but lost track of them.

Another case of vandalism was reported at 2:55 p.m. by Wayne Roszman of 1043 Davids St. He said someone entered his home sometime Thursday night and scattered papers and other items from a desk all over the house. He said he found nothing missing.

The other case of vandalism occurred Thursday night also at the home of W. C. White at 431 Cherry St. He called police at 12:36 p.m. Friday and reported that sometime during the previous night someone cut three strands of clothesline at the rear of his home.

Israel

help which could run into many millions of dollars.

The proposals, it was learned, were worked out in the State Department, passed on by the National Security Council, and perfected in conferences with Eisenhower when the President was in Washington briefly this week.

The timing of the announcement apparently was influenced by reports over several months that Russia is trying to extend its influence in the strategic, oil-rich Middle East with offers of economic assistance and military equipment.

Neutral Bloc Sought

The Soviet policy appears to be aimed at trying to develop some kind of neutral bloc in the region. The aim of the United States, Britain and France has been to create a Middle East defensive system allied with the West.

The great difficulty standing in the way of the Western goal has been continuing hostility between Israel and the Arab states.

A 1949 armistice brought their full-scale war to an end. But there have been numerous border skirmishes and raids since.

The voice of America beamed a special broadcast of Dulles' speech to the Middle East and followed this with Arabic and Hebrew translations.

There was no immediate reaction from any of the Arab governments. But Middle Eastern diplomats here approached the plan cautiously. The eight Arab League members were expected to confer among themselves to prepare a joint formal reply.

Praises Dulles' Move

At the U.N., Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold welcomed Dulles' proposals, praising their "generous and constructive spirit."

The key portion of Dulles' speech was framed in these words:

"President Eisenhower has authorized me to say that, given a solution of the other related problems (such as the future of Arab refugees), he would recommend that the United States join formal treaty engagements to prevent or thwart any effort by either side to alter by force the boundaries between Israel and its Arab neighbors..."

Dulles laid down what amounted to a four point program:

1. A United States treaty, subject to Senate ratification, designed to guarantee Arab or Israeli boundaries.

2. American help in working out clearly defined boundaries between Israel and the Arab states "if the parties to the dispute should desire."

3. American help in raising an international loan to enable Israel to provide compensation for 900,000 Arab refugees, most of whom have been living in tent cities since they fled what was then Palestine during the fighting seven years ago.

4. An American contribution to water development and irrigation projects in the region, which would help to solve the refugee problem by assisting in resettlement.

Officials said it was impossible to estimate the amount of money which the United States might loan or contribute under the plan set forth by Dulles. But they estimated the total cost, which other nations would be expected to share, probably would run between 200 and 300 million dollars.

Britain Supports Israel-Arab Move

LONDON (AP)—Britain lined up today with the United States in offering to guarantee the security of Israel and the Arab states provided they enter a permanent peace accord.

The Foreign Office statement welcomed Secretary of State Dulles' speech in New York Friday in which he offered American help and guarantees in working out clearly defined boundaries between Israel and the Arab states.

The British statement said Dulles' proposal was an "important contribution toward solution of the most critical, outstanding problem in the mideast."

Traffic Cases

One driver was found not guilty and two others were each fined $15 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Friday on traffic charges.

A. C. Anderson, 53, of .92 Hane Ave. was found not guilty by a jury on a charge of drunken driving. He previously had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The two drivers fined were C. C. Ginter, 58, of Bevinsville, Ky., on a charge of failure to have an assured clear distance ahead, and Jack H. Myers, 26, of Columbus, also on a charge of failure to have an assured clear distance ahead.

Flood

stricken scene, called a special session of the Legislature, blocked the moving of pre-fab houses out of the state, and taken time to blast any effort to woo industry out of the area.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks arrived in Hartford Friday and immediately released half a million pieces of machinery held in reserve in case of an atom bomb attack.

In the smallest communities, unsung local officials were on the job to get services back to normal. Often they didn't look like officials. They wore khaki slacks and blue denim shirts as they climbed over rubble to locate sources of trouble.

Here in Torrington, Mayor William Carroll typifies the hard-working official of the disaster communities.

It is no time for pomp. Carroll, a former lieutenant governor, works at his desk in his shirtsleeves. His desk is so covered with reports on the flood and rebuilding situation that he keeps his telephone on the floor. It rings incessantly.

Carroll hasn't estimated the damage to his city. His first job, he says, is to care for the people and to get services restored.

"We got the electric lights on again," he said. "It was such a relief we all just went out and stood looking at them."

He spoke admiringly of helicopter pilots who rescued marooned people from trees and rooftops and brought in supplies.

"Those pilots are real crackerjacks," he said.

Relatives in East's Flooded Areas Safe

Marion County residents who have been anxiously awaiting word from relatives in the Stroudsburg, Pa., area, desolated by the recent floods, received a letter today telling them they are all right.

John Miller and his daughter, Mrs. Guy Ellis of near Prospect, formerly lived in the vicinity of the flood disaster before coming to this vicinity 13 years ago.

Mr. Miller's mother, Mrs. Jennie Miller, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Imbt, operate a chicken farm within about a half-mile of the place where Camp Davis was completely swept away. In the letter received today, Mrs. Imbt said their home is safe, and the only damage they suffered was from water flooding the chicken houses. She also said they are unable now to get feed for their chickens because the two feed companies in the town were swept away by the flood.

Thomas Miller, an uncle, who lived directly in the path of where the flood hit in Stroudsburg, is safe but his home and all his belongings are gone.

Mr. Imbt, the letter said, is assisting in the cleanup projects in the Stroudsburg area.

One Accident Reported

Marion County just missed an accident-free 24-hour period yesterday. Only one minor accident was reported by city police. Highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies investigated none. The accident in the city caused less than $100 damage, police estimated.

Sewers

systems, he explains. Use of lift stations would also be much less costly than the construction and operations of additional sewage treatment plants, he said.

In either case, trunkline sewers likely will have to be installed but a sewage treatment plant might have to be located at such a distance away from the city that the cost of trunkline sewers to it might be more than the total cost of a number of lift stations and their connecting trunkline sewers, Browne said. In addition, there would still be the cost of construction and maintenance of the treatment plant, he adds.

ACTUALLY some of the city's sewer needs have been recognized since as far back as 1945 when voters in the city approved a special levy for $371,950 for 10 proposed sewer improvement projects.

But before all these projects could be completed, rising prices for materials and labor shot the cost of each project up to the point where the money was all but gone and still some $271,900 worth of projects remained to be completed.

Of the 10 projects proposed in 1945 only four were completed and another is now under construction. The four projects completed were the Clinton St. sanitary and storm water sewers; the Clinton St. interceptor sewer; the Ququa storm sewer; and the Niles St. interceptor sewer..

Now under construction is the Jefferson St. sanitary sewer. Most of the $90,000 balance from the 1945 bond issue is being used to pay part of the cost of this project.

The five projects which were never undertaken because the money ran short included a Jefferson St. storm water sewer; extension of the E. Center St. sanitary and storm water sewers; extension of the E. Center St. trunk sewer to the east; extension of an E. Church St., Grand Ave. and Indiana Ave. trunk sewer; and a Leader St. sanitary sewer.

In all probability, any new engineering survey made now will show that all these projects still are needed along with a number of others, according to the city engineering department.

One of the projects which Engineer Ruth feels is still badly needed is the extension of the E. Center St. and Mt. Vernon Ave. trunk sewers.

ACCORDING TO HIS estimates, the E. Center St. sewer could be extended as far east as the Lawrence Farms Market without need of lift stations, and the Mt. Vernon Ave. sewer could be extended at least to the city limits in the same manner. Together these two sewers would provide facilities for a large expansion in sewer service for the areas adjacent to the northeast, east and southeast edges of the city, Ruth believes.

With the use of lift stations both trunk sewers could be extended even further east and this could open up vast areas for housing development, he points out.

What the cost of these extensions would be has not yet been estimated and likely will not be until the proposed engineering survey is made, but it is safe to assume that the cost will be in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It is also likely that part of the cost would be paid by the county since such extensions would be for the benefit of the county as well as the city.

Polio Rises in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois health authorities received reports of 147 polio cases this week compared to 132 in the same period last year, the State Health Department said today.. There were 75 cases reported last week.

To date, 507 cases have been reported this year in Illinois, compared to 576 reported in the same 1954 period.

'Swim or Come Home,' Briton Told; He Swims

CALAIS, France (AP)—"Get in the water and have a go—or come home and face the music."

That, in effect, is what the people of Bloxwich, England, told swimming pool manager Bill Picketing Friday on the Dover side of the English Channel.

So he did.

This morning—14 hours and 6 minutes later—he walked out of the water on the French side.

Big Bill, a 32-year-old, 252-pounder, said he was making the swim "simply to satisfy the people of Bloxwich." His hometown raised $980 for his expenses.

He had been waiting around Dover four weeks for favorable weather. Friday a deputation from Bloxwich told him to get going or get home.

'Edith' Called 'Weak Sister'

Hurricane Dallying Well Out in Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Edith, tabbed a "weak sister" by storm forecasters, dallied in the Atlantic today with no indication when, where or if she will strike the mainland.

The fifth tropical storm of the year and third this month was moving very slowly toward the north northwest with winds of bare hurricane force 75 m.p.h. in squalls near the center.

Her forward speed was only 5 or 6 m.p.h. and her course was erratic.

Late Friday night the storm center was 920 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C., and 450 miles south of Bermuda.

Gales extend outward 150 miles to the north and east and 75 miles to the southwest.

At 5 a.m. EST the disturbance was centered about 990 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla.

It continued to move slowly toward the north-northwest at about seven m.p.h. and its course was expected to remain in that general direction throughout most of today.

There was a possibility of some intensification.

which he said may not last.

The Virginian said he has no doubt the budget can be balanced. But, he added: "It would be foolhardy to balance the budget and then unbalance it by a premature reduction of taxes. The sound balancing of the budget must come about by reducing expenditures."

In the House—where tax legislation originates—Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa) said he regarded Humphrey's statement as "laying the background for a recommendation for a tax cut in a political year." The presidential election will be held in 1956. However, Eberharter said he expected both Republicans and Democrats to push for tax cuts next year.

Rep. Lingell (D-Mich), like Eberharter a veteran member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, said he would "insist" that excise tax reductions be considered first, to be followed by individual income tax cuts and corporate levies last.

Blast

50,000 barrels of 100-octane gasoline a day, had more than twice the capacity of the ordinary catalytic cracker.

The dead were 3-year-old Richard Glewniak, killed when a shard of steel shot through a house, and Walter Rhea, 63, a foreman at the refinery, who died of a heart attack.

The dead boy's brother, Ronald, 8, was badly hurt, and their father, Frank, was cut on the leg.

Flames Spurt 200 Feet

Hours after the blast, flames roared some 200 feet into the gloom above ruptured refinery tanks. Knots of curious onlookers stood awestruck by great sheets of 2-inch steel which had been hurled outside the refinery.

One piece some 50-feet long had bashed through the front of an unoccupied house and flattened an automobile some 400 yards from the blast. Another about 80 feet long lay 200 yards away from the shredded hydroformer, blocking traffic in U. S. Highway 41.

"Torn just like a piece of paper," one man said.

One automobile landed upside down atop a smashed house.

Windows were shattered in a general radius of three miles from the explosion.

House 'Seemed To Lift'

Mrs. Isaac Bratcher who lives a block and a half from the refinery, said she was feeding her dog in the basement when the blast occurred. "The house seemed to lift off the ground," she said. "The windows were blown in on all four sides."

Estimates of the number of people working at the hydroformer when it blew up ranged from seven to 19. A number of persons were taken to hospitals from the refinery.

The fire did not spread outside the plant.

A Standard Oil spokesman said damage to the plant would run around "several million dollars," most of it to the hydroformer.

Fires in the plant were burning several hours after the blast.

Charles Knoblock, Associated Press photographer who flew over the scene, reported that he could see a towering column of smoke when he took off from Meigs Airport near Chicago's Loop.

Rises to 25,000 Feet

It looked like the plume of an atomic blast about 25,000 feet in the air," Knoblock said.

"As we approached the refinery, thick, oily clouds were boiling up from the plant. There was one huge blaze, surrounded by numerous smaller fires. There were so many, it was difficult to try to count them.

"You could see the streams of water being played on the fire and a crowd of spectators. Oil trucks were on the move, apparently getting out of the danger zone."

Whiting police reported the damage zone within the plant grounds covered an area of more than two acres. Windows were reported shattered in Crown Point, Ind., about 20 miles south of the scene.

The Standard Oil Co., which maintains its own police and fire department was fighting the blaze with the help of firemen from Whiting, Hammond and East Chicago.

Newsmen Barred

Newsmen were barred from entering the prant grounds.

Whiting police said they understood the hydroformer, a new facility, had been in operation from 30 to 60 days and was still under test when it exploded.

They said the blast sent up huge columns of smoke that could be seen more than 20 miles away. Flames soared more than 200 feet into the air.

Gary Post Tribune newsmen, reporting to their office via two-way radio, said Standard Oil workers built dams and dikes to stop the flow of oil and gasoline. They also reported:

Homes three blocks west and south of the plant, were being evacuated by some 700 to 800 persons.

Firemen strove to keep flames away from a tank of natural gas in the fire area—lest it also go up with a terrific explosion.

Homes Damaged

Homes about a block north of the plant were damaged. The house at 1822 Ann St., was hit hard and a piece of flying steel dug a crater ten feet wide and six or eight feet deep in the back yard. The garage in the rear was demolished and an automobile was bounced onto the roof section, where it landed upside down.

The Post Tribune reported that Gary, about five miles east of Whiting, was covered by a pall of smoke.

Workers from as far away as Valparaiso, Ind., 25 miles away, came to work with umbrellas. Unaware of the blast at the time, they thought it was a dark day with a threat of rain.

Most home telephones in the vicinity of the explosion were out or order. So were telephones in some nearby communities.

that he didn't work there and didn't know how to operate the machine, the armed robber then tried to open the drawer himself.

Unable to get it open, he left and fled in a car reportedly stolen from Marion and headed north toward Marion.

A sheriff's car spotted the car a few minutes later abandoned on Route 23 at Barks Rd. It is believed that the robber fled on foot through the fields, deputies said.

At 12:31 a.m. today, Eugene Earl of near Marion reported to Marion police that his car, which matched the description of the car used by the robber, was stolen from the rear of Weller's Cafe on N. Main St. between 8:30 and 11 p.m. last night.

The robber was described as being about 22 years of age, 5 ft. 8 in. tall, weighing about 160 pounds, and wearing tan trousers and white tee-shirt. He had a black mask over his face and head, and it is believed he also was wearing a gray cap.

Scattered Showers Seen Over Weekend

A hot weekend appeared in prospect for the middle section of the country, and some of the warm weather appeared heading into the eastern states.

Ohio's forecast called for a few scattered thundershowers today with the temperature reaching a high of between 86 and 92, and rather cloudy with a few showers tonight. Sunday is expected to be partly cloudy and not quite as warm.

Friday in Marion, the mercury reached a high of 87 and dropped last night to an overnight low of 64. At noon today, the mercury stood at 79.

Temperatures climbed above 100 for the third straight day Friday in the Central Plains and South Dakota. Top marks were 106 at Hill City, Kan., and Burwell, Neb.

Fairly pleasant summer weather prevailed in the Far West with temperatures in the 50s and 60s except in the southern desert region where hot weather continued.

Juvenile Charges Filed Against Man

A charge of acting in a way tending to cause the delinquency of juvenile was filed in Marion County Juvenile Court against a 22-year old Marion youth arrested last week when he was found drinking beer in the Quarry St. cemetery with a 17-year old girl.

He is Charles Morrison of 1215 Bryant St. Marion Juvenile Officer, Sgt. Virgil Campbell said that a hearing on the charge against Morrison will be held Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

The 17-year old girl was also charged with being a delinquent, Campbell said and a hearing on this charge also is scheduled for Tuesday or Wednesday.

Thieves Enter Boys' Club, Fail In Second Try

A break-in and an attempted break-in were under investigation today by Marion police.

The break-in was at the Citizens Boys Club at 627 Bellefontaine Ave. and occurred sometime Thursday night. Police received no report of it until 3:13 p.m. Friday.

In their investigation they found that the front door of the clubhouse was pried open with some kind of a pry bar and that $15 was stolen from a desk in the building. The office was ransacked and papers from the desk scattered about, they found.

The method of entry matched that used in a break-in of Hoover's Restaurant and Garage also at 627 Bellefontaine Ave. Thursday night in which some cartons of cigarettes but nothing else was found missing. This was reported to police early Friday morning. A cash register from the restaurant was also taken outside and was found lying on the ground at the rear of the building. It had contained no money.

The attempted break-in, also reported to police Friday, was at the Rothfuss Implement Store at 735 Bellefontaine Ave. Police said marks on the rear door of the building indicated that a pry bar of the same type used on the boys clubhouse and Hoover's Restaurant was used on the implement store. The door frame was partially forced but no entrance was gained to the building, police said.

First place in the stallion futurity in the 10th annual American Belgian Show went to 18-month-old Tim's Waterloo Farceur, owned by Harkness Farms of Sandusky.

County Restaurant, Drive-In Entered

Break-ins at the South Drive-In Theater and the Pleasant Inn Restaurant on Route 23 south of Marion were reported to the Marion County sheriff's office today.

Fred Thacker, manager of the drive-in theater, said the projection room and concession stand were broken into there.

Some 20 cartons of cigarettes and an undetermined amount of candy and cigars were taken from the concession stand, he said.

Locks on doors of both the projection room and the concession stand were pried off to gain entrance, he added. Indications were that both were ransacked, he said.

No details were available on the break-in at the Pleasant Inn, which is located just north of the drive-in theater. Roy Maish, the owner, said that entrance was gained by breaking out a window but that he had not determined if anything was stolen or not.

Both break-ins apparently occurred sometime after midnight. The drive-in theater was open until that time and the restaurant did not close until 1:30 a.m.

Local Business College Plans for New Session

Arrangements for the opening of fall term classes at Marion Business College Sept. 6 have been announced by the college.

Enrollment for the fall term is exceptionally high, the college reports, with this year's enrollment figures 80 per cent above last year's total.

Tribe Smashes Yankees 5-2, Regains Second Place

Score Gets Nod as Indians Shoot at Share of Top Spot

By The Associated Press

If the Cleveland Indians can win when they're crippled, how's anybody going to beat 'em when they get healthy?

Manager Al Lopez, who's marveled all year at how his Tribe has managed to stay up close in the American League pennant race, was without three of his big guys again Friday night, yet the Indians smacked the New York Yankees 5-2 and climbed back into second place.

The victory upped the Tribe to within one game of the first place Yanks, carrying them past the Chicago White Sox, who tripped to third with a 10-0 pasting by Washington. The White Sox, only 1½ back despite three straight defeats, were held to two hits by Pedro Ramos, a 20-year-old righthander.

Cleveland was without Larry Doby who pulled a thigh muscle; Gene Woodling who has bruised ribs, and Vic Wertz, stricken with polio. Yet the Indians battered Tommy Byrne, usually a tough gent to handle, for 12 hits in seven innings.

Fain Leads Way

Ferris Fain, a castoff with a bum knee, subbed for Wertz and had three hits good for two RBI's. Hoot Evers, recently off the hospital list himself, replaced Doby and had two hits, scoring once.

Bob Lemon, another ex-casualty, scattered nine Yankee hits in the meantime and took his 14th victory, although Ray Narleski had to get the last two outs. Phil Rizzuto and Gil McDougald homered for the Yank runs.

Pressing for a first place tie in the American League pennant race the Indians take on the Yankees today in the finale of a three-game set.

A victory for the Tribe would even the count down to the last percentage point—with both teams standing 77-50 for .606.

That also would gain the Indians the distinction of being the first team to wrest a season series from the Yankees in Casey Stengel's seven-year term as manager.

Last night's 5-2 triumph was the Indians' 11th victory in 19 meetings this season with the New Yorkers, who won the opener Thursday by the same score. After today, the two squads square off for their final encounter, a doubleheader in Yankee Stadium Sept 11.

Picked to mount the Cleveland mound today was Herb Score, who flaunts a strikeout total of 194, and needs only six more to become the first major league pitcher to fan 200 since 1946, when another Indian, Bob Feller, wiffed 348.

Score struck out five and walked five in his only start against the Yankees, Aug. 4, when he gave up four hits in five innings. Reliefer Ray Narleski finished the game, a 6-3 win for the Indians.

In his only other appearance against the Yanks, the second of a doubleheader June 26 in Yankee Stadium, Score fanned nine, walked two and yielded one hit in five innings of relief pitching. The Indians lost that one 2-0.

Larsen To Hurl

Standing 13-10 for the year, Score will oppose Don Larsen, who was sent to Denver in the American Association early in the season, and returned to the Yanks at the end of July.

During the four weeks since his return, Larsen piled up a 5-0 record to add to the 1-1 mark he had made before. The loss — by 9-6 — was against Cleveland on May 10.

In last night's contest, the Tribe clipped 12 hits off loser Tommy Byrne. Three of them were by Ferris Fain, who drove in two runs.

Bob Lemon allowed nine hits, including the Yankees' only runs, a fifth-inning homer by Phil Rizzuto and a home run in the ninth by Gil McDougald. Registering his 14th victory against eight defeats, Lemon was helped in the ninth by Ray Narleski, who was in for the last two putouts.

Byrne issued two singles and a walk in the first to load the bases. One run came in when Al Rosen hit into a double play, and another tallied on a walk and Fain's single.

The Tribe put together another run in the third on singles by Ralph Kiner, Hoot Evers, and Fain.

A pitched ball banged Rosen in the fifth, and advancing on a single by Jim Hegan, he scored when Rizzuto muffed a grounder by George Strickland.

Evers Doubles

Evers doubled to left in the seventh and notched the Tribe's final run after singles by Fain and Strickland.

The White Sox, tired from three doubleheaders in four days, managed only a fourth-inning double by Minnie Minoso, who ran his hitting streak to 19 games, and a two-out single by Jim Rivera in the ninth off Ramos. The 6-foot Cuban, 4-8 for the season, walked only two and struck out three.

Washington scored six runs in the first inning as Dick Donovan, making his second start since his appendectomy, lasted through just six batters.

In the other AL games, Detroit knocked fourth place Boston farther into the background 5-4 while Kansas City edged Baltimore 3-2 on Enos Slaughter's eighth-inning home run.

The National League race aroused itself as Cincinnati smacked Brooklyn 4-2, cutting the Dodgers' lead to 10 games—the

45 Candidates Seek Berths at Mount Gilead

MOUNT GILEAD — A total of 45 candidates are working out daily for the 1955 Mount Gilead High School football team, it was announced by Coach John Marty.

Practices are being held twice daily until school starts. All squad members practice in the morning at 7 a.m. and backs and linemen alternate for evening practice sessions starting at 6 p.m. Coach Len Walls is assisting Marty.

The squad is one of the largest in number in years. The line is expected to be light and inexperienced although there are many veterans back for backfield posts. The team is expected to be somewhat faster than last year.

Marty has switched from the single wing to the T formation this year. An intersquad scrimmage was set for this morning. On Sept. 2 at 7 p.m. the varsity and reserve squads both will scrimmage with Bellville. First regular game is on Sept. 16, with Olentangy playing here.

A total of 11 lettermen are back. They are: Harry Arnold, Don Ingmire, Ronnie Osborn and Bob Vaughn, halfbacks; Don Bader, fullback; Frank Bendle and Gene Brush, quarterbacks; John Newson and Bob Richardson, tackles; Dick Zwayer, end; and Bob Zwayer, center.

Chuck Stanley and Don Covert, last year's lettermen, have not reported this year.

Reds Score 3rd Win at Ebbets Field

BROOKLYN (AP)—Pitching coach Tom Ferrick remarked some weeks ago that if reliefer Hershell Freeman didn't preserve another game for the Cincinnati Redlegs, he had already earned his keep.

But Freeman continues his amazing relief role. He allowed one hit in the last three innings as the Reds last night trimmed the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers 4-2 for the third straight time. And it was the third in a row since the 27-year-old righthander was utilized by Manager Birdie Tebbetts when the starters weakened.

With two outs in the ninth inning in the first game of Thursday night's doubleheader, Freeman helped Johnny Klippstein out of a hole. He rescued Joe Black in the seventh inning of the second game and got credit for the victory, his fifth against three losses, although he was lifted for a pinchhitter in the ninth.

Last night, after Duke Snider led off the seventh with a single, Freeman saved rookie Don Gross' triumph.

The Reds sent the Brooks down reeling in the seventh with a two-run splurge which broke a 2-2 tie. Roy McMillan had singled. Then with two outs, Johnny Temple smashed a McMillan scoring double to center. Smokey Burgess sent Johnny marching home with a single.

Singles by McMillan and Temple produced the Red's first run in the third. They made it 2-0 in the fourth on a walk and Gus Bell's and Sam Mele's singles.

The Dodgers, whose league lead has dropped to 10 over the second place Milwaukee Braves, scored a run in the fourth on a walk and Carl Erskine's double. The loss was Erskine's sixth against 10 victories. The score was tied in the sixth on Gil Hodges' 23rd home run of the year.

Gross was only the 10th lefthander to oppose the Dodgers this season. The 24-year-old bachelor now owns a 3-2 record.

The Reds were set to close out their Ebbets Field activities for 1955 in a single afternoon contest.

The fifth place Cincinnatians gained a full game on fourth place Philadelphia. They are now only 2½ games out of first division and three behind third place New York.

Erwin Captures Top Feature at Richwood Oval

Richwood drivers took the three top spots in the feature event last night at the Richwood Speedway.

Joe Erwin led the pack after nipping Chuck Wilcox in the late stages. Wilcox came in second with Jim Hamilton running third. Chet Johnson of Radnor finished fourth with fifth place going to Chet Howard of Mount Gilead.

Erwin also won the winners' handicap. He was followed in by Wilcox and Hamilton. The first heat race was won by Tod Gibson with Jack Stidham in second and Chuck Douglas taking third. Ralph Nichols copped the second heat with Glenn Skinner coming in second and Lowell Orr grabbing third.

Wilcox set the pace in the third heat beating Hamilton over the finish line. Erwin followed Hamilton.

In the first consolation race Johnson was the winner with John King coming in second and Ralph Baker finishing third. J. L. Jones took the second consolation event. Ed Hendrickson was second and Floyd Lamb Jr. copped third.

Thirty-five cars were on hand at the track and 24 of them started the feature race.

Yesterday's STARS

Pitching —Pedro Ramos, Senators, gave up just two hits, as the Nats whipped White Sox 10-0.

Batting — Bill Tuttle, Tigers drove in two runs with a pair of doubles and home run in 5-4 victory over Red Sox.

A total of 897 high school football teams will compete for championships in six divisions in Texas this year.

Women Bowlers Hold First Meeting of Year

The first meeting of the year by the Thursday Afternoon Ladies League was held this week and plans for the coming season were discussed.

League action will get under way on Sept. 8 with 10 teams taking part. League sessions will be held at 1:15 p.m. Mrs. Emily Stephenson, president of the league, said some team vacancies still exist. Any teams interested in the spots may contact her at 2-0677.

Trinity's Team Grabs Lead in Church League

Trinity took over outright possession of top spot in the Church League in play last night at Garfield Park.

The Trinity squad bounced St. Mary 11-6 while Epworth, whipped Church of the Brethren, formerly tied with Trinity, by a 14-5 margin.

Trinity now leads the other four Church League squads with a 7-3 mark while Brethren is 6-4 and Greenwood 5-4.

B Trimmer, behind a nine-hit attack, held St. Mary to four hits in Trinity's opening win.

The victors clinched it with five runs in the third on as many hits and two hit batsmen after coming up with three tallies in the first and two in the second.

Another run in the fourth finished the Trinity scoring. Trimmer was nicked for St. Mary's first run in the second and then they hopped on him for five in the fourth after Trinity had piled up a 10-1 advantage.

Steve Norris toiled for the losers, giving up nine hits. Mulvaine collected two of them, a triple and double, and Ackley also banged out a pair of hits.

Epworth also sealed its win over Church of the Brethren with a big inning as Dan Day held the losers to four hits.

The winners scored seven times in the second after netting two in the opening frame, and added two in the third and three in the fifth.

Brethren was held to single runs in the first and third by Day and then tallied thrice in the fifth.

R. Ballinger was the loser, giving up 13 hits.

D. Darnell led the hitters with three hits and two walks in five trips to the plate. Al Kreidler, D. Rhee and Eddie Young all collected two hits.

Bucyrus Team Lacks Weight

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus High School's 1955 football team will be one of the smallest in recent years, Head Coach Richard Frantz indicated today.

Approximately 50 youths are participating in the two-a-day drills being held on Lane St. Field here.

Because of the smallness of most squad members, Frantz said he again will use the split-T formation. He shifted from the single wing to the split-T last season because his starters were smaller than usual.

In charge of coaching the backs is Bob Wolfe, who also will handle reserve players in junior varsity games. John Hutton has been designated as line mentor and Donald (Red) Tschanen, a Bucyrus High School graduate now on the school's faculty, will replace Merlin Apel as Junior High coach. Apel resigned to take a teaching position in California.

Although the squad has been practicing only a few days, two players already have been lost for several weeks. Jim Strauch, the only sophomore letterman on the squad and a promising end candidate, underwent an appendectomy this week and will be out for at least a month. Bill Garner, a 13-year-old freshman, suffered an arm fracture in Wednesday's workout.

Snead Leads Field In Canadian Event

MONTREAL (AP)—Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., went into the third round of the $26,800 Montreal Open golf tournament today with a one-stroke lead over Doug Ford and Canada's Stan Leonard.

Snead carded a 69 Friday, which with his five-under-par 65 first round gave him a 134 total at the halfway mark of the 72-hole competition.

The 39-year-old Leonard, however, put together a 66 and Ford from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., added a 69 to stay right at Snead's heels with 135s.

Braves' Aaron Injured

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Aaron, Milwaukee's steady hitting outfielder, will be sidelined for two or three days with a torn ligament in his ankle suffering during Friday night's 7-1 victory over the New York Giants.

Seixas, Trabert Fall

U.S. Hopes for Davis Cup Jolted by Aussie Tennis Aces

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—To say that the position of the U.S. defending Davis Cup team is difficult would be putting it mildly.

Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas have two strikes on them. One more and they're out and the coveted trophy returns to Australia.

Trabert and Seixas try to keep their faint hopes alive on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club today when they engage Lewis Hoad and Rex Hartwig in the doubles match of the best-of-five event.

Even if Trabert and Seixas win the doubles, they'll still have to win the final two singles Sunday. Tony is paired with Ken Rosewall and Seixas meets Hoad.

Only once in Davis Cup history has a team gone down to defeat in the opening singles and managed to win the cup. That was in 1939 when Australia's Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich dropped the first two matches to America's Bobby Riggs and Frank Parker, and came back to win the next three.

Trabert and Seixas were unimpressive in defeat Friday. The near-capacity throng of 13,500 half-expected Rosewall to lick Seixas. That he did, 6-3, 10-8, 4-6, 6-2. It was Rosewall's 10th victory in 12 meetings with the 32-year-old Seixas.

But there probably wasn't a soul who thought Hoad, a big, blond youngster who blows hot and cold, could humble Trabert, the king of the world's amateurs. He humbled Trabert 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6.

"We're in a tough spot," said U.S. Capt. Bill Talbert. "There's no denying that. But we still can win. Both Tony and Vic are in good shape."

Trabert certainly didn't perform like a fellow who had won 16 of 19 tournaments over the season, capping it off by sailing through Wimbledon without the loss of a set.

He failed to take advantage of his openings. Hoad, in turn, pushed him to the backcourt when it became apparent Tony wasn't going to press the issue.

Seixas simply was no match for Rosewall, a wiry little swinger who owns perhaps the finest ground strokes in the game.

Columbus Jets Bow in Finale At Home Park

By The Associated Press

It was a long time coming, but Rochester finally has its first victory of the season at Havana. The Wings upended the Sugar Kings 5-1 last night, with Allie Clark and Dom Lasseter clearing the fences at Gran Stadium De Havana—a jinx park for most International League teams.

Toronto opened up a slight bit of breathing space between itself and the Montreal Royals with a 5-0 triumph over Richmond. This put the Leafs a half game and four percentage points ahead of the Royals, who, along with the Buffalo Bisons, were not scheduled.

Columbus staged a "Fan Appreciation Night" for its home finale, but lost its contest with Syracuse, 6-5, disappointing the crowd of 10,251 which turned out.

Toledo Regains Second Spot in AA Campaign

By The Associated Press

There has been another slight delay in Minneapolis' expected march to the American Association pennant.

Denver weather and the Toledo Sox upset the schedule for the title-bound Millers last night.

Toledo edged into second place, eight games back of Minneapolis, by setting down the Charleston Senators, 8-2. At the same time rain washed out the Millers-Bear contest in Denver with the score tied at 4-4, necessitating a doubleheader Saturday night.

Omaha slipped a notch into a third place tie with Denver, half a game behind the Sox, as St. Paul bested the Cardinals, 8-7 in 10 innings. Indianapolis and Louisville divided a twin bill. The Indians won, 14-8, in an opener marked by seven home runs, and the Colonels took the nightcap, 7-2.

Second Harding Gridder Hospitalized by Injury

Injuries continued popping up in the Harding High School grid camp as Coach Gordon Larson and the Prexy football candidates wound up the first week of practice.

Lester Prude was admitted to Marion General Hospital yesterday after his teeth were chipped in practice.

Dick Penry, meanwhile, remained in the hospital. He is suffering from a stretched knee ligament. Four others are nursing bumps and bruises suffered in practice sessions this week.

Second Annual Dahlia Exhibit Is Scheduled

Flower Show of Ohio Society Will Be Held At Kingwood Center

The second annual Dahlia Show sponsored by the Dahlia Society of Ohio will be staged at Kingwood Center, Mansfield, Ohio, on September 3 and 4. As in all Kingwood Center flower shows, there is no entry fee and the show is open to anyone wishing to exhibit dahlias.

Entries will close promptly at 10:30 a.m., EST, Sept. 3. The show will be open to the public free of charge from 2 to 10 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 3, and from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 4.

First, second, third, honorable mention, and special award ribbons will be given where merited and the "Best Dahlia in the Show" will be awarded a grand champion rosette.

Beginners especially are urged to bring their flowers to the Exhibit Hall where members of the Dahlia Society will assist them in preparing their entries. To a first-time exhibitor the excitement of cutting and preparing his best flowers, hoping that each one will be a winner, gains momentum after he arrives at the show amidst the hustle and bustle of other exhibitors exchanging comments on old varieties, or new ones being shown for the first time.

As in all fields, prize winners are the result of trial and error and each exhibitor learns through the experiences of other growers many things which may be invaluable to him. Through flower shows the amateur gardener learns to distinguish between the ordinary and perfection.

Kingwood's own dahlia garden will be in full bloom at the time of the show. This collection features nearly 350 varieties of dahlias in all types and colors, labelled for easy identification and reference.

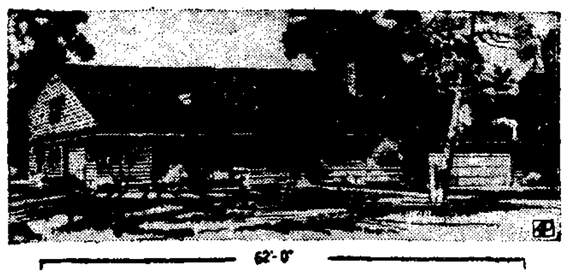
Kingwood Center is fast gaining a nation-wide reputation as a horticultural center. More than 150,000 persons representing every state and many foreign countries have visited the beautiful gardens and walked along the two-mile nature trail through the wooded areas of the 47-acre estate.

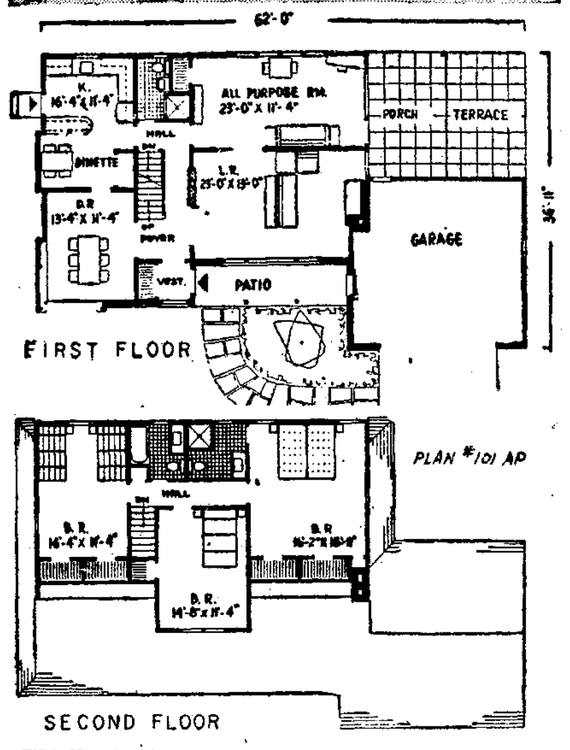
HOT WATER NEEDED

When illness strikes, hot water is usually one of the major sick room essentials, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. That's why it is important to have a dependable supply of hot water in every house. Hot water can be provided economically either by an automatic water heater or by an indirect water heater connected with the boiler of the house heating system.

Check your metal outdoor furniture periodically for rust spots. Rust may spot your clothing or weaken the furniture over a period of time.

Two-Story Home Is Low





TWO STORIES in the rear, this house presents a low and rambling front. Corner windows cheer the front dining room. A large living room with a corner fireplace opens into a spacious informal family room. A covered porch and an open terrace are secluded behind the two-car garage. Three bathrooms and the kitchen are grouped for economical plumbing. This is plan 101AP by Samuel Paul, architect, 89-51 164th St., Jamaica 32, N.Y. The house covers 1,032 squqare feet without garage and porches.

Roof Overhang Creates Drama

"A house without distinctive roof overhangs is about as complete as a face without eyebrows," says John Abbate, New York decorator and color stylist.

Abbate recommends that roof overhangs be extended from the customary 2 or 4 inches to 18 or even 24 inches, whether the roof pitch is steep or low.

This "eyebrow line" gives a house "architectural drama," he feels, and "the smaller the house the more important is a wide, handsome overhang. It's the least expensive way to make the house larger and more important in appearance."

Dramatic architectural features are necessary to do justice to modern building materials, Abbate says. "If you choose one of today's striking new color-blends in asphalt roof shingles, such as an icy blue-green or russet-brown, you want people to be sure to see it. Prominent overhangs bring the roof down to where it invites the observer's attention, and offers a pleasing contrast to the sidewalls.

Among other advantages of wide overhangs, Abbate mentions the "deep shadow line, which keeps exterior walls and window areas cooler in mid summer. The shadow itself is an ornament, an ever-changing band of darker hue against sun-lit sidewalls. An overhang also offers protection from rain as well as from sun, preventing windows from becoming splattered and interiors from getting soaked when open windows are forgotten during a sudden storm."

Color Used Widely In Homes of Today

From bathroom fixtures to telephones to houses, the swing today is to color. Faber Birren, noted color authority, reports:

"Fully 75 per cent of all painted houses were white about a decade ago. Today, use of color has increased from about 25 per cent of the total to well over 50 per cent, and the percentage keeps rising.

"Probably the most active color trend has been in asphalt shingle roofing. Here the technical laboratory has provided a whole new palette of pastel hues, which have risen steadily in popularity, to a point where they now are preferred by two persons out of five."

However, the color consultant cites a survey of 1,600 homeowners in 12 widely scattered areas which indicates that deeptoned red, green, gray, and other traditional asphalt shingle colors remain the dominant choice for American roofs. The sole exception is pastel blue, to which the survey gives a slight edge over medium blue shingles.

"The wide range of attractive roofing, siding, and paint colors now available enables the homeowner to give the house a complete, exciting new color scheme, from the roof right down to the windows, door and mail-box," Birren says.

NO LONGER LUXURIES

In the days of the early American colonists, cedar closets were luxuries. Few people could afford to have special closet space in their homes, and even fewer had cedarlined closets. Today, many average - income families have closet lining. The wood is available at most lumber yards, and can be applied to closet walls by any home handy man.

Furniture Can Be Given New Swank Easily

Unpainted Units Take The Spotlight When Finished With Care

You can furnish a home on a shoestring now that Mom's on the do-it-yourself beam.

Unpainted furniture, formerly relegated to playroom or nursery, may be so attractively refinished by the lady of the house that it will find its way into living room or master bedroom.

Painting furniture pieces is just one way of beautifying them. Sanding and staining to retain the natural wood grain is another method.

The craftsman, man or woman, employs just a few easy steps to achieve a beautiful chest, desk or dressing table.

Sanding is the first step and the experienced do-it-yourselfer knows that good sanding is essential to the beauty of a finished piece of wood.

THE FIRST sanding is done with a fine sandpaper. A convenient holder may be obtained so that the area may be covered quickly. New sandpaper may be slipped into the holder each time one becomes worn.

Wood particles must be dusted off after each sanding with a clean, dry brush. If particles are left behind they'll interfere with the flow of liquids and leave imperfections on the surface when it has dried. A clean lint-free cloth may be used, but be sure it is lint-free.

A clear sealer and primer should be used next. This equalizes hard and soft areas of the wood so that the entire surface will absorb color applications evenly. If the sealer is not used the natural beauty of the grain might be distorted. Then too the sealing action protects the wood agains damaging moisure which causes swelling and warping. Drawers will slide easily if given a clear application on all surfaces.

THE CLEAR COAT should be set for 15 minutes and then excess should be wiped away. Allow several hours for drying. Sand again, removing dust.

Basic color stains or intermixes can provide mahogany, cedar, maple or walnut effects. Or perhaps you'd prefer driftwood, sage, redwood. A blond effect may be achieved by wiping a white resin over the wood. Sage, a soft-green hue, blends with many decorating schemes.

Application of this color stain is pretty much the same as for the first clear coat. Simply mix well and brush to the desired depth of color.

When the color coat is dry, sand with a very fine paper. Then apply your final coat which should give the wood a nice satin sheen.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: We have purchased a load of used, cream-colored brick from a wrecked building. We plan to use this for a terrace floor and intend to lay the brick in a bed of sand. Several people have told us that once the bricks are put on the ground they would disintegrate. What do you advise?

A: Brick of the color described is usually of a hard burned variety with very little water absorption. A brick of this type does not ordinarily disintegrate when exposed to ground moistures. I would suggest, however, that in order to maintain a uniform and level surface, a thick bed of cinders or gravel should be laid to provide level surface, a thick bed of cinders or gravel should be laid to provide a good base for drainage, particularly if the soil is inclined to be of a clayey consistency.

Q: Nine years ago we put a prefinished tileboard on our bathroom walls. The surface has peeled and chipped badly. Can you suggest a way to remove the rest of it, and what should I use to repaint it?

A: The balance of the finish can be removed by rubbing with sandpaper and steel wool. The steel wool will have to be used in the lines between the tiles. Wash off all surfaces with turpentine, then apply a couple of coats of enamel undercoater. Finish with any good quality enamel.

Q: A colored candle melted on our fireplace which is made of sandstone. It left a large, greasy looking spot. Can you suggest something to remove the spot? Detergents did not help.

A: Brush and scrape off as much of the wax as possible with a knife. The remainder of the discoloration should come out with the paste of powdered whiting and naphtha; then spread a thick layer of it over the stain. Allow to remain until dry; then brush off the powder, and if necessary, repeat the treatment. Be very careful of fire when using naphtha.

Growing Pains

First Gardening Venture Can Turn Into a Problem

By ALBERT S. FULLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Well, it finally happened.

Somewhere, somehow, someplace, it was inevitable that someone would do it almost ALL wrong in the garden.

This isn't a happy story, because it, couldn't have happened to a nicer guy.

He was fresh out of the city. He didn't go to the 50 by 100 plot—in the suburbs—he went deep out into the rim of Suburbia. The house was old, the grounds were overgrown—with everything.

Our friend has the heart of a true gardener, but truly, he goofed on his maiden voyage so bad the ship is going to leak for some time.

First, however, there must be a charitable word. He did get a vast area cleared for gardening—and he did run into one of the worst dry spells in the area in many a moon for his initial venture.

But his was enthusiasm unconfined. After he cleared away the growth of years—weeds, rampant honeysuckle, poison ivy, and the gamut of rank growth, he started planting in earnest.

The vegetable garden was the object of his affection. First there was corn—then tomatoes, peppers, beets, carrots, squash, zucchini, cucumbers, lettuce, pumpkins — just name it, he planted it.

Over an area of about 100 by 200 feet, he interspersed rows of varied flower seeds and seedlings, even including a private small garden for his 4-year-old daughter.

One day he asked if I would visit his place.

"Things aren't going too well," he said quietly.

Did you ever get in a spot where you like someone, know he has the best of intentions, and then find he has messed up all beyond all belief? This boy did it.

His ground was basically New Jersey clay soil—heavy, compacted and due to the dry spell—crusted like an overbaked biscuit.

He had about 40 some odd tomato plants. The stakes were about two feet above ground. The plants neither were upright staked nor were they unstaked. They were betwixt and between. There were big, green tomato worms waxing fat on his effort. He had not sprayed them.

His cucumbers were sparse and shriveled; the corn was almost high but dry; the beets were the size of marbles and had little likelihood of improving—the flowers . . . well . . .

One could go on, but in the same depressing fashion.

"Didn't you hear the word about keeping things compact and within reason spacewise the first year?" I asked.

"Oh, yes," he said, "but I got carried away. I put in one thing, then just had to have another, and before I knew it, I was ready for a farm distress loan."

He'll make it—next year. He's going to put a vast amount of his place into grass, or rye or soy bean to be turned under for long range soil improvement.

Next year, his garden will be about 25 by 25 feet. There will be a few flower beds. He'll fertilize, spray, and make sure that water is available for dry spells. He'll read directions on seed packets. He'll plant for a family of three —not 10. He'll read a book or two on elementary gardening.

He said so.

I hope so.

Building Permits

Six buildig permits with a total valuation of $27,050 were issued at the Marion city clerks office in the week from Aug. 19 through 25. This was above the total valuation of permits issued for the same week last year when eight permits for $18,500 were issued. The permits were:

New Construction

Local 750 Holding Co., new CIO-UAW office building and conference hall, Leader and Joseph Sts., $25,000.

Improvements

R. H. and Hazel Augenstine, 277 Kensington Pl., enclose breezeway, $150.

Mrs. Chester Brooks, 539 E. Church St., addition of bedroom, $500.

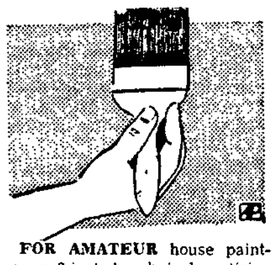
J. S. and Marie Burns, 239 Johnson St., enclose porch, $100.

L. L. Martin, 637 Windsor St., garage, $800.

John and Vivian Rife, 749 Blaine Ave., garage, $500.

Uncooked smoked meats will stay fresh longer if they are wrapped in a vinegar-dampened cloth, in waxed paper, and then stored.

Best for Beginner



FOR AMATEUR house painters a 3-inch brush is less tiring than a wider brush. Fatigue causes many accidents around the home, says the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutal Liability Insurance Co. Don't tackle a 4-inch brush until you have had a couple of days of muscle conditioning.

Builders Want Plenty Closet Space in Homes

When it comes to planning a home, people have many differences of opinion. All agree, though, that the modern home needs plenty of well designed closet space. How much closet space the average home needs depends, of course, upon its size and the number of persons in the family.

Home planning experts say the average three - bedroom home should contain at least 50 square feet of closet space. This space is generally distributed as follows: one closet in ech bedroom, a guest or coat closet and a linen closet. These are minimum closet requirements, the experts point out. They explain that the average family needs more closets.

Fox example, many new homes are being equipped with one or more cedar storage closets, where families can store seasonal clothing and household woolens without fear of them being damaged or completely ruined by moths. Moths are repelled by the aroma of aromatic red cedar closet lining and avoid living and breeding in closets which are lined with it.

In original construction, cedar-lining a closet is little or no more expensive than other wall coverings. Even in an older home, closets may be lined with moth-repellent cedar, or special storage cabinets may be constructed with cedar at relatively little expense.

A man who is adept with a hammer and saw can apply aromatic red cedar closet lining to the walls of an existing closet over a weekend. The wood is sold at most lumber yards in packages which contain enough pieces to cover at least 32 square feet of area. All pieces of cedar lining are tongued and grooved for easy application and snug fit.

Salt Lake City's Police Not Lax, Bandit Learns

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Officers arrested on suspicion of robbery Friday a man who said he was a former Dallas policeman.

The man, Walter Francis Glasscock, 35, was arrested after $102 was taken at gunpoint from Richard W. Cardwell at the Cardwell variety store.

The man was quoted by police as saying from stories he had read in the newspapers about laxity in the Salt Lake City Police Department, he believed he could get away with it.

Local newspapers have been charging laxity in the police department for several weeks. The city is investigating the charges.

In 1955, more than ever

BUSINESS IS RELYING ON NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING TO KEEP SALES CLIMBING

In 1955's first half, newspaper advertising has made its biggest contribution on record to the continued growth of American business.

In the first six months, business invested more dollars in newspaper advertising than in any half-year in history.

Manufacturers' advertising set a new record.

So did retailers' advertising—including department stores, chain stores and all the rest.

So did classified advertising—mainstay of real estate, and many other business classifications.

Manufacturers and retailers alike are profiting from the salespower of newspapers—the salespower that stems from the fact that newspapers are the shopping medium — WHERE CONSUMERS LOOK EAGERLY FOR ADVERTISING — and from the fact that nowhere else can manufacturers' ads and retailers' ads WORK TOGETHER so effectively to increase the productivity of both.

IF YOU ARE • a manufacturer • a retailer • a distributor • a merchandise broker • a manufacturer's salesman

...ASK YOURSELF: Is newspaper advertising being called on to do all it can to keep my sales going up?

Giambra Earns February Shot At Olson Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—G I. Joey Giambra was in line today for a shot at the middleweight boxing championship on the strength of Friday night's masterful performance against titlist Carl (Bobo) Olson.

The young Army private, who dropped a unanimous decision to Olson in the Cow Palace, was given assurance he'd get a title date by Truman Gibson, Secretary of the International Boxing Club.

"He can have a title fight in February," said Gibson.

Sid Flaherty, Olson's manager, agreed that the 24-year-old crewcut kid had earned the date.

Olson was apparently as surprised as the 5,102 fans, who booed lustily when the unanimous decision was announced. He acknowledged that Giambra "gave me a hard fight."

"He's fast and he's smart and he's young," said the balding champion. "I'm getting to be an old man."

At times Olson looked just that Giambra was sharp, especially with his left hand in the early going, but the champion's experience gained him the nod. Time and again he tied up the boy from Buffalo, N. Y., on the ropes, scoring with his body punching and nullifying Giambra's hook.

Referee Jack Downey had it 58-52 for Olson and Judges Ray Flores and Vern Bybee scored it 57½-52½ and 56½-53½.

San Francisco—Carl (Bobo) Olson, 165, San Francisco, outpointed Joey Giambra, 161, Buffalo, 10.

Plans Set for Football Ticket Drive at Harding High School

Plans for a pre-season ticket sale of Harding High School football tickets have been completed by the athletic board at the school.

Members of the Harding High School Boosters Club will help conduct the drive.

Included in this year's plan is a move to cut the athletic debt at the school, Darl Gatchell, new Harding principal, announced. The athletic department started the year with a total of $1,271.56 debts, he said.

"We have been in debt around $1,000 every year due to our expanded athletic program," Gatchell said. The expansion includes the addition of golf and tennis teams. The athletic program is not supported financially by the Board of Education and must be self supporting.

"We're trying to cut out the debt," the Harding school head said. He added that one of the methods decided upon was a drastic cut in the number of free season passes issued for the Prexy games. The Athletic Council and the Booster Club board of directors agreed to the changes in plans in an effort to decrease the athletic debt. Formerly parents of the Harding gridders received a pair of complimentary tickets. This year they will be asked to purchase them.

"If every set of parents this year would buy tickets it would bring in some $500 in extra income," Gatchell pointed out.

The athletic department, with the help of the Booster Club, also has taken on an additional expense, he said. Insurance for the athletes is being bought and school officials hope that may bring a cut in medical expenses. Gatchell said the insurance was being purchased from the same firm which handles general insurance which all students may purchase.

Orders for season tickets are being accepted now by James H. Smith, school treasurer. He is taking orders by telephone or by mail. Smith is in his office at Harding each day from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. He may be contacted at 2-0235.

Persons holding season tickets last season may obtain their same seats prior to Sept. 9. However, Gatchell said good seats are still available for persons not holding season tickets last season.

Pihos Leads Eagles In Win Over Bears

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — End Pete Pihos picked up 134 yards on aerials, two of them good for touchdowns, to lead the Philadelphia Eagles to a 27-20 victory Friday night over the Chicago Bears.

It was the Eagles' third exhibition win this season in the National Football League and the Bears' second straight loss.

Bear halfback Henry Mosley ground out 10 and 29 yards in the final period for two touchdowns in a vain effort to bring the Chicagoans from behind.

shortest spread since their 9½-game edge June 10. Milwaukee's second place Braves whipped New York 7-1.

St. Louis kept Philadelphia from replacing the Giants in third place by winning, 4-1, and Chicago snapped a seven-game losing streak 6-3 at Pittsburgh.

Boston, 5 games behind, swung for 11 hits, including homers by Sammy White and Jim Piersall, but Billy Hoeft hung on for his 13th triumph. Bill Tuttle hit two doubles and a home run to pace Detroit's 10-hit attack on five Boston pitchers.

Johnny Temple had three hits as Cincinnati denied Carl Erskine his 100th major league victory, and knocked in the winning run with a double as the Redlegs broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh. Gil Hodgs homred and Duke Snider, breaking a slump, had three singles off winner Don Gross, who needed help from Buster Freeman.

Milwaukee wrapped the Giants up early, going five games up on the New Yorkers with Del Crandall's bases-loaded home run off Ruben Gomez in the second inning. Bob Buhl spaced eight hits for a 13-8 record and his fourth straight victory.

Willard Schmidt cut off Philadelphia's six-game winning string with a five hitter while the Cards ran up a 2-0 lead on Curt Simmons in the first four frames.

The Cubs whacked 11 hits, with Ernie Banks getting a double and triple, while Sam Jones, who walked eight, permitted three Pittsburgh safeties.

Four Marion Dogs Will Participate in Leafy Oak Events

A total of 460 dogs, including four from Marion County, will run in the annual National Leafy Oak Coondog Field Trial to be held at Seceaium Park near Bucyrus over the Labor Day weekend.

Dogs from 19 states and Canada were placed in 46 heats in drawings held last night at the trial site. The four county entries, O-Red Bob, Red Hot, Sidney and Billy, are owned by Harley Johnson of Prospect.

There are also dogs entered from Galion, Bucyrus, Mansfield, Ashland and Shelby.

The three-day event is scheduled for Sept. 3, 4 and 5, with heats during all three days scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. and continue until dark. Twenty-two heats are on tap opening day, 24 on Sunday and some seven Monday in the semi-fimals.

Some 10,000 persons are expected to turn out for the famed trial in former years held near Kenton and now owned by Ray Wert of Mansfield. Concessions and amusements will be available and round and square dancing will be held in the evening at Seccaium Park.

Donates to Flood Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic has donated $100,000 to the American National Red Cross flood relief fund for use in the stricken Northeastern States.

Physicians Say Vic Wertz Is in Good Condition

CLEVELAND (AP)—Polio-stricken Vic Wertz was in "good" condition in an isolation ward today, and the Cleveland Indians' physician reassured the other players about possible contagion.

Dr. Don Kelly told the Tribe, "Don't worry about carrying it home to your children. It is extremely unlikely."

Wertz' illness was diagnosed Friday, but as yet there has been no sign of paralysis.

"He may be all right as soon as his fever runs its course," said Dr. Kelly. "There may be no paralysis at all. Of course the dangerous period is not over. He will remain in isolation for four or five days."

The Indians will miss the 30-year-old first baseman and outfielder for his batting punch for the remainder of the season.

Evidence Melts

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Bernard Huggins, 49, is in the cooler today even though the heat destroyed the evidence against him.

He drew a six-months jail term on a petit larceny charge—stealing a block of ice from the front of a business building.

ON MARION ENTERTAINS

Robert Darling of Bucyrus, baritone, and Mrs. Mildred Wills and Mrs. Mary Kay Mills, duetists, will be heard on the Marion Entertains program Sunday at 1 p.m over Station WMRN. The program is produced and directed by Mrs Griselda Davis Dombaugh.

Kentucky Man Tops 2,023 in Grand Shootoff

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—The biggest Grand American Trapshoot in history winds up today as the nation's crack shots decide the national doubles, over-all and all-around championships.

Today's events come as an anticlimax to Friday's Grand American handicap in which Logan Bennett, 39-year-old salesman and father of six from Hodgenville, Ky., triumphed over 2,023 other competitors with 99 of 100 from the 19-yard line.

Bennett figured to pick up in the neighborhood of $8,000 for his triumph. The exact figure will not be known for a couple of days.

The estimate was reached, however, on the basis of the payoff to F. B. Rees of Heyworth, Ill., and Weldon Hopman of Buckley, Ill., who tied for the less expensive preliminary handicap Thursday.

Rees, although the winner of the event in a 25 target shootoff, wound up with $2,475 while Hopman, the shootoff loser, garnered $4,585. The difference came when Hopman almost swept the optionals by breaking his first 75, while Rees had a long run of only 50.

Other championships Friday:

Women's, Mrs. Dolly Isetts of Kenosha, Wis., who broke 93 of 100 from 20 yards; R. L. Schwieger of Grant Island, Neb., won the junior event with 95 from 21 yards and George Heaney of Indianapolis took the professional title with 94 from the 24 yard line.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Taylor and Family,
Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gray and Family,
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blankenship, Jr., and Family,
Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gray and Family,
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vaughn and Family.

1-B—IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORY of Richard Nelson Thomas who paseed away two years ago, Aug. 27.
His Mother.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on the 19th day of May, 1955, there was presented to the Board of Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, a Petition for Annexation, and on the 30th day of June, 1955, a Supplemental Petition for Annexation was presented, which Petition and Supplemental Petition are being treated as one Petition signed by all of the freeholders owning lands and building in the territory to be annexed, all of which property is being used for residential purposes or is to be used for residential development, which property is described as follows.

Situated in the County of Marion, and State of Ohio and adjacent to the City of Marion, Ohio, being more particularly described as follows:

Being a part of the South part of the Southeast quarter of Section Fifteen (15), Township Five (5) South, Range Fifteen (15) East, and being more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the Southeast corner of said Section 15; thence West 0° 00' along the South line of said Section Fifteen (15) being in Fairground Street, eight hundred thirty-three and nine-tenths (833.9) feet to the place of beginning; thence continuing west along the South line of said section and in Fairground Street one thousand five hundred fifty-four and nine-tenths (1554.9) feet to a point; thence North 0° 03' East one thousand nine hundred seventy-nine and six-tenths (1979.6) feet to a point; thence North 89° 45' East one thousand five hundred fifty-one (1551) feet to a point; thence South 0° 03' East one thousand nine hundred eighty-nine and one-tenth (1989.1) feet to the place of beginning, containing seventy and seven hundred thirty-two thousands (70.732) acres, more or less, subject to all legal highways.

The petitioners have asked that said territory be annexed to the City of Marion, Ohio, in the manner provided by law, and have designated George F. Scantland, Jr., as their Agent in securing such annexation.

On the 21st day of July, 1955, the Board of Commissioners accepted and filed said Petition and fixed the 8th day of September, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. as the time for hearing on said Petition, at the office of the County Commissioners in the Court House at Marion, Ohio.

George F. Scantland, Jr.,
Agent.

News of the Churches

Rev. Emmons Will Speak At Union Vesper Service

First Presbyterian Church pastor, Rev. Irvin W. Emmons, will be the speaker at the union vesper service Sunday night on the lawn of Central Christian Church. Rev. J. Paul Goebel of First Evangelical and Reformed Church will be worship leader. Time of the service will be 7 o'clock. The sermon theme will be, "Four Kinds of Christians."

A summer custom in the community, the vesper services are held each year beginning in June and concluding with Labor Day Sunday. Ministers of 11 co-operating congregations have taken part as the worship leaders and the speakers from Sunday to Sunday in turn. Offerings are used for Weekday Religious Education work in the public schools under direction of the Marion County Council of Churches.

Trinity Baptist

A feature of the morning worship service Sunday at Trinity Baptist Church will be the administering of the ordinance of baptism. The guest soloist will be Miss Joan Miller of Chicago, Ill., singing, "I Sought the Lord," Stevenson. The Youth Fellowship will have as guest Sunday night for the recreational and devotional meeting Miss Jean Smart, president of the Ohio Baptist Youth Fellowship. An area meeting of young people from the Baptist Churches in the Marion, Mansfield and Mount Vernon Associations will be held at the Mount Gilead Baptist Church Monday at 7:30 p.m. Miss Smart has recently returned from a trip to Europe where she attended the sessions of the Baptist World Alliance in London, and her message will deal with youth work as she observed it in operation in the British Isles and on the continent.

The Boy Scouts of Trinity Church with their families and committee members will have an outing on Monday night at Camp Owens. Transportation will be provided at the Trinity Youth Center at 6:15.

The Woman's Society will meet Thursday at 2 p.m. in the church parlor with Mrs. Floyd Arthur presiding. The theme of the program will be a "Grain of Mustard Seed" presented by Mrs. Floyd Van Meter. Mrs. John Cottrell will give devotions and Miss Julia Gorman will play a flute solo. Receptionists for the occasion will be Mrs. Harry Francis and Mrs. D. W. Hinamon, with Judson circle members serving as hostesses.

Quinn Chapel

Following morning worship at the Quinn Chapel AME Church Sunday an official board meeting will be held.

Jehovah's Witnesses

"The Identifying Mark of Jehovah's People" will be the subject of the public discourse Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses. It will be given by Norman Berry. A question and answer Bible discussion will follow at 8:15 on the subject, "War from Heaven Brings Peace to Earth."

The subject for the Bible study Tuesday at 8 p.m. will be, "The Universalness of the Conflict." Ministry School and business meeting will be Thursday at 7:30 p.m. using the theme, "Maintaing Sanctity for Theocratic Warfare."

Emanuel Lutheran

Members of the Emanuel Lutheran Berean Bible Class and the Missionary Service Group will hold a joint picnic at Harrison Smith Park in Upper Sandusky Sunday afternoon and evening.

The Senior Choir will begin activities again after a brief vacation period by holding its initial rehearsal for the fall season at 8 p.m. Thursday under direction of Homer Huffman.

St. Paul's Episcopal

In charge of morning prayer and sermon Surday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church will be Robert T. Mason, layreader of the parish. He has conducted the services three Sundays in the absence of the rector, Rev. Frederick W. Leech, who is on vacation.

First E. and R.

Returned from vacation, Rev. J. Paul Goebel will fill his pulpit at First Evangelical and Reformed Church Sunday morning.

Christian Science

The way of health and holiness, of dominion over fear and sin which Christ Jesus came to teach, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" will include the Master's healing of the servant of the high priest as recorded in Luke's Gospel (22:50,-51): "And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him."

Forest Lawn

Athems for morning worship Sunday at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church will be by the Junior Choir, "A Legend," Tschaikowski. and by a quartet from the Senior Choir, "A Leged," Tschaikowski. Mrs. Charles Lamb will entertain the Loyalty Bible Class Thursday afternoon.

Emmanuel Baptist

At the evening hour Sunday Emmanuel Baptist Church will hold a farewell service for young people who are leaving for college. Special musical numbers will be presented by various young people, both instrumental and vocal. Rev. C. E. Hershey will play the Belgian piccolo bells. The young people to be honored are Miss Treva Gould who is going to Ohio Northern University at Ada; Miss Nancy Jane Hershey who is going to William Jennings Bryan University at Dayton, Tenn.; Howard Shumate who is going to Cedarville Baptist College at Cedarville, O.; and Roger Walraven, Owen Elder and Kenneth Tharp who are going to Bob Jones University at Greenville, S.C. Each of these young people will give their testimony and participate in the musicale. Instruments featured will be the trombone, trumpets, accordions and bells.

The message will be the last in the series of sermons on "The Great Tribulation Period."

Maranatha Bible

Another week of the tent services sponsored by the Maranatha Bible Church in Garfield Park will begin Sunday. The special meetings will continue over Labor Day, Rev. Earl L. Holliday has announced. Rev. Charles Gray of Dennison, O., is the preacher and Mrs. Gray presents musical numbers at each service. There will be a Sunday afternoon service in addition to the Sunday night meeting at the tent.

Morning worship service at the church Sunday will feature Rev. Gray as the preacher. For the congregation's Bible Fellowship radio broadcast at 9.15 a.m. Sunday over Station WRFD, Worthington, the subject will be, "Two Natures." Speaker on the broadcast over Station WTVN, Columbus, at 9:30 a.m. will be Rev. Gray.

Sunday afternoon sermon at the tent will be on "Woman Trouble in the World and in the Church" and in the evening, "When a Man Meets God." Special music during the day will be by Fred Sammons of Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, Ill., trombonist and song leader; a trio, Misses Dixie Piatt, Barbara Newsome and Vera Trent; solos by Vern Griffith, Mrs. Leona Gray, Miss Trent, Miss Newsome and Miss Peggy Jones; duets by Miss Linda Holliday and Miss Trent, Miss Piatt and Miss Newsome and vibra harp and musical bells numbers, Mrs. Gray; and trumpet duet by Misses Margie Griffith and Marsha Johnson.

Children's services will be each day at 2:45 p.m., Monday through Friday. At all services in the tent with exception of the children's meetings an amplifier is used so that the service may reach those sitting in cars in the park area.

Tonight a film, "The Voice of the Deep," will be shown. It is a color and sound picture of underwater life, Rev. Earl L. Holliday, Maranatha Church pastor and director of the tent meetings, stated.

Local Attorneys Named To Committee Positions

Six members of the legal profession from Marion have been selected to serve on committees of the Ohio State Bar Association.

The appointments were made by President Fred A. Smith of Toledo upon recommendation of executive committeeman Robert Tait of Lima.

The appointees and their committees are: J. C. A. Arter, administrative law; William H. Gracely, junior bar; Charles D. Harmon, corporation law; Bernard C. Moloney, negligence law; Kenneth A. Robinson, judicial administration and legal reform, and Frank Wiedemann, federal courts and practice.

Gracely is also currently serving as a member of the association's council of delegates.

Tough on Pedestrians

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Some days a pedestrian doesn't have a chance Take Lewis Hootchew, 59, for example.

Police said he walked into the side of a moving car driven by Janice Payne, 19, Pocatello. They said he received slight injuries.

As if that wasn't enough, police then arrested him on a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

The Needle's Eye

A Sermonette

By REV. MARTIN L. DOLBEER
Pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church

Matt. 19:24. "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

If John Bunyan had written an allegory about the needle's eye, it might have gone like this:

Now in my dream I came to the great Gates of Paradise. And those gates were wonderful to behold, high and broad and beautiful. And confidently I came and boldly knocked, expecting them to swing wide open for me. Surely, if anyone had won a right to enter it was I. Heaven no doubt was expecting me. But the doors did not swing open, only a little window opened in the face of the great door, and the Keeper of the Gate looked out and said, "What is your name and why have you come"? And I said, "My name is Christian, and I have come to enter Paradise." The Keeper only said, "Have you the password"?

Now I was puzzled that he did not seem to be awaiting my arrival, and that he asked for a password. So I said, "Sir, whatever the price is for entrance, I can pay it. See, I have a full purse here." Now the Keeper looked at me, it seemed, quite sadly and said, "Have you indeed"? "Oh, yes," I replied, "I know that money cannot buy an entrance here but see, I have many treasures gathered through years of hard work. Here is the record of all the prayers I have made; and here is the list of all the hundreds of times I have gone to Church. Is it not a fine record"?

THE KEEPER looked sadder than ever, and said, "Go on." "Well, here is the record of many gifts and offerings I have made to God. Surely this is enough." The gloom on the Keeper's face grew deeper and he said, "It is not enough." "Well, then, I cried, "Here is the record of my good deeds, my helpfulness to my neighbors and service to my community. This is a certificate of honesty, proof that I always paid my debts and cheated no man. Here is a certificate from the chamber of commerce showing my records of more than 25 years of outstanding service. And here is the gist of the sermon my pastor preached when my body was laid away in the tomb. See how highly he spoke of me, my faithful attendance, and my good deeds for the church."

The Keeper heard me to the end and said, "Is that all"? Nonplussed I cried "Surely it is enough. Why, it's much more than lots of people have. I know so many who did not do one-tenth of what I did. I have labored hard all my days to make sure I had the price of entrance here when my time came. Here, take it all and open the gates of Paradise for me."

BUT THE GATES did not open and to my dismay even the little window began to close. Despairingly I cried, "Sir, sir, do not go. Let me in, please, let me in." But the window continued to close and the face of the Keeper disappeared from my sight. But just at the last moment he spoke, "There is a little gate over at the side. Perhaps you can find an entrance there."

Angry and frightened now, I beat on the great gates with my fists and shouted for the Keeper to come back. But all this was to no avail. Finally I turned and looked and there at the side was indeed a tiny door, so small I would have to get down on my knees to crawl through it, and on it was a name, 'The Needle's Eye." And I looked at it with distaste and not a little perplexity, and I thought what a strange reception Heaven was giving me.

And as I looked I heard a voice say, "Throw away your purse." But I cried, "Sir, these are my treasures, the result of much hard work. How can I give them up"? The voice merely replied, "There are greater treasures in Heaven and yours have no value here. Throw them away." So sternly did he speak that I felt compelled to obey, and with sorrow and fear I took off that treasure belt and the heavy bag I had carried so long and threw them to one side. And suddenly without that great weight I felt lighter and gladdened in heart.

AND THE VOICE said, 'Take off your garments." But this I felt I could not do for I had clothed myself in the garments of my pride, and self-esteem and self-love. Stripped of these I should be naked indeed. "Sir," I begged "These garments are precious to me, may I not keep them"? The answer was stern, "No! Those garments may not enter here. You shall be clothed with better garments. Only the naked soul stripped of all but love of God may enter here."

I wept as I tore off those garments. I had cherished so and stood stripped of all I had held valuable. And lo, the little door swung open and I saw a narrow passage-way and at the end a great light surrounding the figure of a cross. And the voice said, "Enter. Blessed are they who have no riches but love for the Lord Jesus. Salvation is the gift of God to all who believe. Enter thou into Life Eternal."

Then indeed I fell on my knees and in complete humility and surrender I entered into Paradise content to know nothing but the wonder of the Love of my Savior."

Lima Woman Elected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Della M. Adams of Lima, Ohio, yesterday was elected secretary of the National Council of Boards of Beauty Culture. Mrs. Rose A. Couture of Nashua, N. H., was elected president. The group ended its 28th annual conference yesterday.

Home Ransacked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police said Mrs. Charles L. Dolle Jr., wife of a real estate broker, was locked in a closet at her home yesterday when two men forced their way into the home and stole $200. Mrs. Dolle was released when her husband came home from work.

Career Started By Woman, 83

Radio Commercials Provide New Interest

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — Mrs. Cordia Greer Petrie, who says she has "been living on borrowed time a long time" has a brand new career—at the age of 83.

The snowy-haired woman, who has written 10 books, now records commercials for a bread company. The commercials, which remind listeners of "the bread grandmother used to make," are used five days a week on two Louisville radio stations.

The job started when Mrs. Petrie won a contest sponsored by a local radio station. It's not the first radio contest she has won, but this time she received an all-expense paid trip to Biloxi, Miss.

Station officials asked her to make a test recording and later she was signed to a contract. It's not her first venture in radio. She gave readings based on her books in the 1920's when Amos and Andy were still Sam and Henry.

Born in Barren County, Ky., Mrs. Petrie learned of the customs of the mountain people when she moved to a mining camp at the turn of the last century. Her husband was a doctor who rode horseback over the remote mountain trails to reach patients

"I learned the language as it was spoken among the mountain people," Mrs. Petrie said.

Her experiments and the insight gained into the ways of the mountain folk were used in creating "Angeline," and her family. Angeline was a woman with "a trifl'in', no-count husband who was always flirtin'," Mrs. Petrie said.

She convinced a Chicago publisher that her stories had possibilities. The series of 10 books went through 68 editions, and later Mrs. Petrie established her own publishing company to handle the demand.

Clocked Speed

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP) — "What's your name," asked motorcycle patrolman Cal Burnham after he had clocked a driver at 47 miles an hour.

"Robert C. Speed," was the reply.

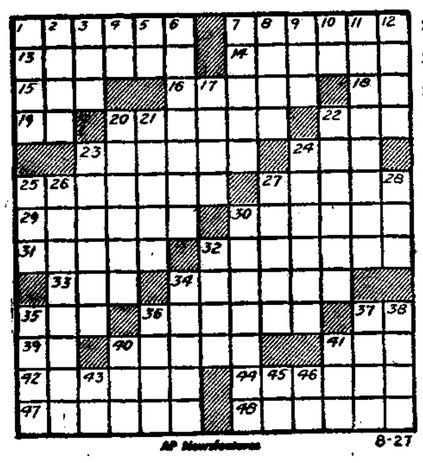
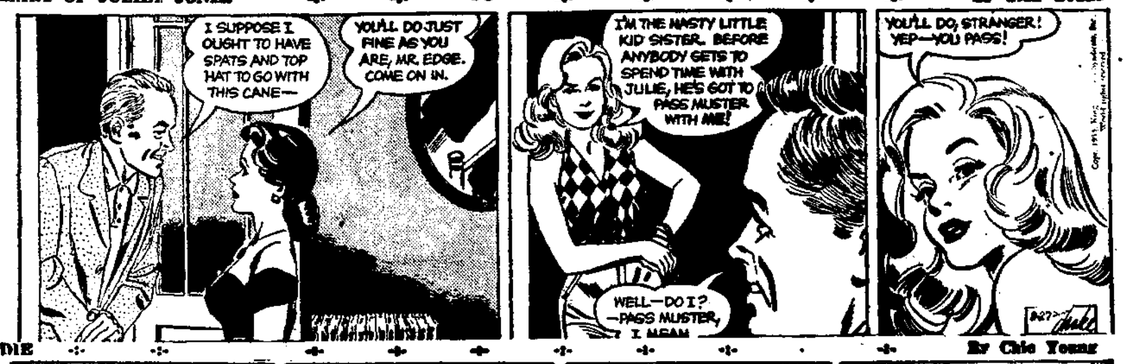
Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

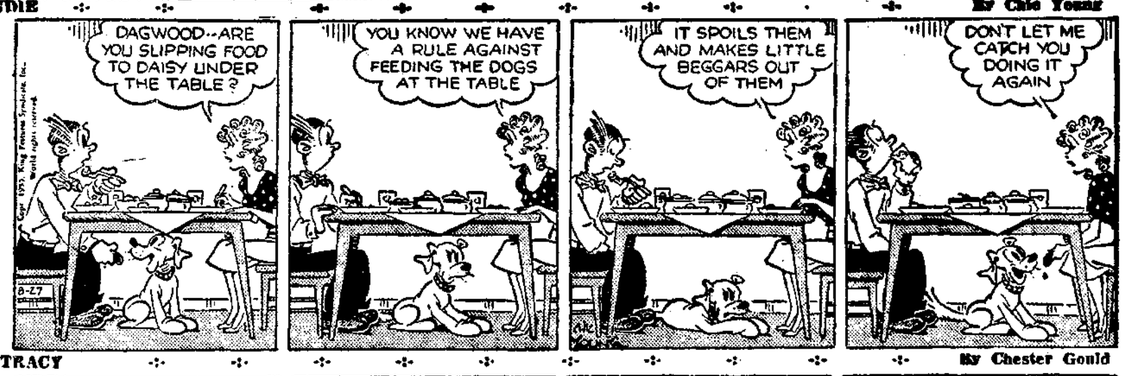


THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake



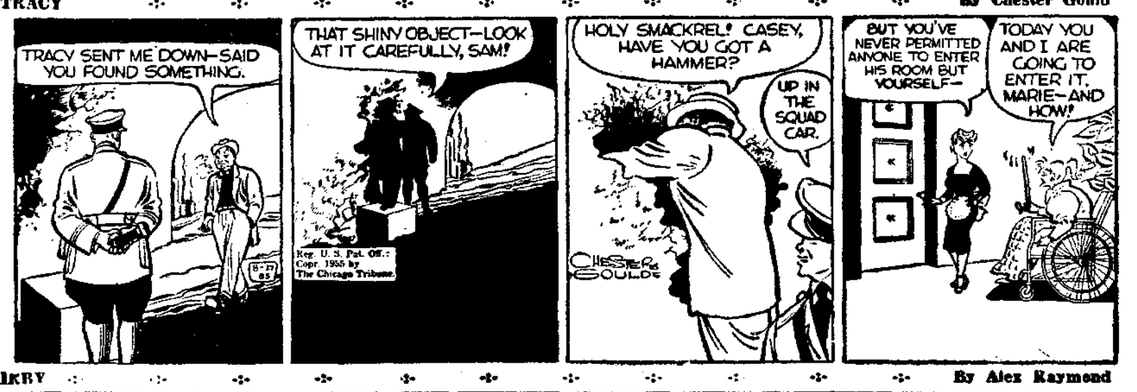
I SUPPOSE I OUGHT TO HAVE SPATS AND TOP HAT TO GO WITH THIS CANE—
YOU'LL DO JUST FINE AS YOU ARE, MR. EDGE. COME ON IN.
I'M THE NASTY LITTLE KID SISTER. BEFORE ANYBODY GETS TO SPEND TIME WITH JULIE, HE'S GOT TO PASS MUSTER WITH ME!
WELL—DO I? —PASS MUSTER, I MEAN
YOU'LL DO, STRANGER! YEP—YOU PASS!

BLONDIE By Chic Young



DAGWOOD--ARE YOU SLIPPING FOOD TO DAISY UNDER THE TABLE?
YOU KNOW WE HAVE A RULE AGAINST FEEDING THE DOGS AT THE TABLE
IT SPOILS THEM AND MAKES LITTLE BEGGARS OUT OF THEM
DON'T LET ME CATCH YOU DOING IT AGAIN

DICK TRACY By Chester Gould



TRACY SENT ME DOWN—SAID YOU FOUND SOMETHING.
THAT SHINY OBJECT—LOOK AT IT CAREFULLY, SAM!
HOLY SMACKREL! CASEY, HAVE YOU GOT A HAMMER?
UP IN THE SQUAD CAR.
BUT YOU'VE NEVER PERMITTED ANYONE TO ENTER HIS ROOM BUT YOURSELF—TODAY YOU AND I ARE GOING TO ENTER IT, MARIE—AND HOW!

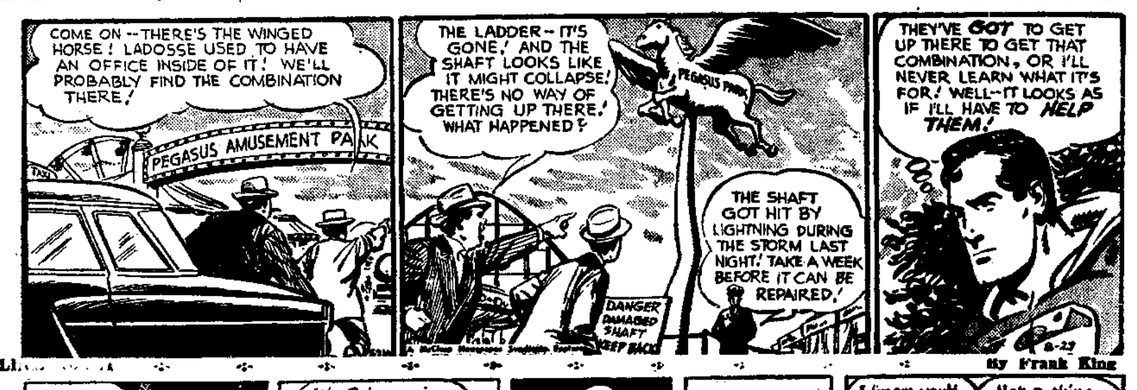
RIP KIRBY By Alex Raymond

I CAN'T FIRE...HE'S STAYING BEHIND DESMOND...
REMEMBER, NOW, I GET IN THAT CAR AND DRIVE AWAY— OR THIS GUY'S A DEAD DUCK.
BETWEEN TWO GUNS, DESMOND SUDDENLY GOES LIMP.
WHAT TH... THE LITTLE DOPE'S PASSING OUT...
...ONLY TO UNCOIL LIKE SPRING STEEL WITH DEVASTATING EFFECT!

SUPERMAN By Wayne Boring



COME ON--THERE'S THE WINGED HORSE! LADOSSE USED TO HAVE AN OFFICE INSIDE OF IT! WE'LL PROBABLY FIND THE COMBINATION THERE!
PEGASUS AMUSEMENT PARK
THE LADDER—IT'S GONE! AND THE SHAFT LOOKS LIKE IT MIGHT COLLAPSE! THERE'S NO WAY OF GETTING UP THERE! WHAT HAPPENED?
THE SHAFT GOT HIT BY LIGHTNING DURING THE STORM LAST NIGHT! TAKE A WEEK BEFORE IT CAN BE REPAIRED!
DANGER DAMAGED SHAFT KEEP BACK!
THEY'VE GOT TO GET UP THERE TO GET THAT COMBINATION, OR I'LL NEVER LEARN WHAT IT'S FOR! WELL—IT LOOKS AS IF I'LL HAVE TO HELP THEM!

GASOLINE ALLEY By Frank King

No.
It's Brim again, Marge. He wants me to go on a date tonight.
No. No. No.
Yes.
I knew you'd weaken, Judy. What's it going to be?
Not a thing, Marge. He asked me if he should take no for an answer.

ANNIE ROONEY By Darrell McClure

WELL, MERCY ME! THE POOR LITTLE MITE MUST BE PLUMB TUCKERED OUT. SHE'S FALLEN ASLEEP.
PICK HER UP, FIDELIS. TAKE HER UP TO THE EAST BEDROOM.
PICK HER UP?? ARE YOU SURE SHE WON'T BREAK?
I'VE NEVER DONE THIS BEFORE, MARTHY— BUT I KIND O' LIKE IT. SHE'S LIGHT AS A FEATHER.
WELL, I VOW. A CHILD SLEEPIN' UNDER OUR ROOF. THIS OLD HOUSE HAS RAISED A HEAP O' CHILDREN IN ITS TIME--BUT THAT WAS LONG BEFORE OUR TIME.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Achieve Self-Confidence

A couple of years ago I addressed a meeting in a certain city, after which a man came up to me and introduced himself as the mayor of a neighboring town.

DR. PEALE

"I'd always wanted to be in politics and I finally got a chance to run our small city," he said. "I didn't think I'd be elected, frankly. But somehow I got in. And now that I am mayor, I realize that I'm not fitted for the job. I just don't know enough. I guess everything my opponent said about me in the campaign is true—and even more. How can I get some confidence in myself"? was his honestly troubled question.

So I asked him, "How do you know you aren't fitted to be mayor of your city? Maybe God called you to be mayor."

HE LOOKED surprised. "Does the Lord call people to be mayors"?

"Every occupation in life should be thought of as God's calling," I replied. "In the case of a public servant, the voice of the people is the voice of God. He selected you out of all the people in your city to be mayor, and He will see you through if you seek to do His will and trust Him."

"I'm not a religious man," he told me, "and it is difficult to feel that I could be singled out to implement the Divine purposes. But I will try to feel that, as myself, I am called to serve God in that capacity."

As it happened, just before I had gone to this meeting, I had picked up the Gideon Bible in my hotel room. Opening the book at random, I saw the Twenty-second Chapter of the Book of Job. And my eye lit upon part of one verse. This is what is said, "If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up." As I talked to this troubled mayor, those words seemed a message for him. They mean, of course, that if you return to God, He will lift you above your inadequacies and build you up to whatever strength and insight are necessary in meeting your responsibilities adequately.

I TOLD this to the mayor. He looked at me with obvious interest and I could see that the Scripture passage had gripped him. "That's tremendous," he said. "I get the idea."

Later he wrote to me: "That was certainly a message from God. And by letting that faith work within me, I finally gained the self-confidence I needed. That doesn't mean I did not have to work and study awfully hard. God helps them who help themselves."

If you, too, need to achieve self-confidence, take a pencil and paper now and write those words down: "If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up." And, more important, inscribe them on your mind. Commit them to memory. They have power in them. Use these words from the Bible to remind you of the great creative truth that, through faith, you can be built up to all the strength and wisdom that you require.

One of the greatest personal problems of our time is the feeling of inadequacy so many have. It is at the root of much mental illness and unless overcome, can, result in your becoming that one who in each 10 persons, as Dr. Karl Menninger of the Menninger Clinic points out, suffers some form of mental trouble.

JUST AS THE great vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk offers hope for freedom from the dread disease of infantile paralysis, there is also a "spiritual vaccine" which often prevents that mental distress which causes breakdowns. This is an "injection" of creative faith into the mind.

How easy it would be if a doctor could treat the inferiority complex by giving the patient an injection of faith. Well, nothing is easy in this life, and getting the quality of faith that counteracts inadequacy feelings requires time, patience, prayer and much trying. But, by persistence in the practice of faith attitudes, substituting positive for negative thoughts, you can ultimately recondition your mind and gain self-confidence.

"If thou return to the Almighty," the Bible tells us, is the secret of making yourself adequate to meet life successfully. People who humbly and sincerely live by faith attain that self-confidence which gives victory over life's difficulties.

Cashier in Los Angeles Routs Would-Be Bandit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A bandit flashed a gun and handed bank cashier Mrs. L. L. Michaels a note saying:

"This is a stickup."

Mrs. Michaels, 60, threw the note in the gunman's face. "You go to hell," she told him. He fled.

FBI agents Friday night arrested Paul Anthony Ricci, 44, a few hours after the attempted holdup. They said he had a toy gun in his pocket and would be charged with violation of the federal bank robbery statute.

News of Granges

Eloise Snare and Ralph Wenig were elected princess and prince when Montgomery Grange met Tuesday evening at the Grange Hall.

The program included a reading, "Why We Are Called Buckeyes," by Mrs. Dorothy Snare; a poem, "The White-Footed Deer," by Mrs. Josephine Wenig; a story, "The Boy, the Dog, and the Fire Engine," by Eloise Snare; a reading, "The tree Planter," by Mrs. Mildred Anderson; and a talk on the Johnny Appleseed Highway.

The program closed with a clothes-pin contest. On Sept. 13, the meeting will begin at 6 p.m., with the men building a picnic table and the women preparing a basket dinner. Officers will be elected at this meeting.

Marion CIO Members Complete Special Class

Three Marion men were graduated from the Ohio C.I.O. Council's annual one-week summer school at Athens, Friday night.

They were Gerald Chandler of 795 N. State St., Melvin Hunt of 681 E. Farming St. and Francis H. Postell of 966 Bryant St., all members of Steelworkers Local 1949 here.

CIO members from Ohio as well as Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Missouri, New York, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and West Virginia attended the school and received diplomas for completion of four courses in Labor subjects.

To Receive Degrees

Marion and LaRue students will receive degrees in annual summer commencement exercises Saturday at Kent State University.

They are Jack L. Graham of 419 Davids St., who will receive a Master of Education degree, and Lawrence J. Smith of LaRue, who will receive a Bachelor of Science in Liberal Arts.

They are among 364 candidates for degrees.

BRITISH FREIGHTER LISTS TO PORT. A motor launch from the Swedish American liner Kungsholm makes its way through choppy Atlantic waters about 300 miles off outer Hebrides toward disabled British motorship Agrobeam, 7,133-ton freighter en route to Copenhagen from Norfolk, Va. The Agrobeam was abandoned by all its crew except the captain and first mate. Crew was forced to abandon ship because of fire. The Kungsholm rescued 29 members of the Agrobeam crew.

Seven New Teachers Employed By Board of Education at Forest

FOREST — The Forest schools will open Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 8:45 a.m. and will be in session until 11:45 a.m. Superintendent Frank Blackburn announced today. A preschool teachers' meeting will be held Sept. 5 at 9 a.m. for both grade and high school teachers.

Lunch will be served starting Wednesday, Sept. 7.

School will be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. each day. School will be closed Thursday and Friday, Sept. 29 and 30, for the Hardin County Fair.

Seven New Teachers

Four teachers have been hired to replace teachers who have resigned and three new teachers have been employed. Mrs. Katherine Shick of Kenton will teach vocational home economics. Mrs. Shick is a graduate of Bowling Green State University and has previously taught in Forest and Mount Victory schools. Mrs. Shick will replace Mrs. Jean Gordon, who has moved to Washington, C. H., O.

Mrs. Eloise Hammel of Forest has been employed to replace John C. Elder, who resigned to accept a position with the State Department of Health. Mrs. Hammel a graduate of Western College, Oxford, will teach English and elementary music. Mrs. Hammel previously taught at Salem, Wyandot County, Forest, Alexandria, Licking County, and Everett Junior High chool in Columbus.

Wilbur L. Hurd has been hired to teach vocal and instrumental music in the high school. Hurd replaces Ralph Balmer who resigned to accept a similar position in the Pandora-Gilboa schools in Putnam County. Hurd is a graduate of Ohio State University and has taught in the West Jefferson and Kenton schools. While at Ohio State, he was a member of the Ohio State Marching Band and a member of the Ohio State Concert Band.

Miss Elnora Bear of near Forest has been hired to teach one section of the third grade. She replaces Mrs. Robert Bair, who has been granted a leave of absence. Miss Bear was was graduated from Marseilles High chool in 1953 and completed her training at Bluffton College.

Will Teach Typing

Miss Marilyn Kempsell of Kenton will teach typing and stenography. Miss Kempsell, a graduate of Kenton High School, received her degree in business education from Ohio Northern University last June.

Mrs. Martha Babcock has been employed to teach the fourth and fifth grade. Mrs. Babcock graduated from Forest High School in 1947 and attended Ohio State and Ohio Northern universities. The fourth and fifth grade combination has been created to help relieve the present overload of pupils in those grades.

Donald L. Alt of Celina has been hired as assistant coach and history and physical education instructor. Alt was graduated from Celina High chool and received his A. B. degree from Dennison University, Granville. At Dennison University he was active in sports being a member of the college varsity football, baseball and basketball teams. After his graduation in 1953, he spent two years in the U. S. Army with 15 months in Korea.

Return to Staff

The following teachers in addition to the new members complete the staff: Frank M. Blackburn, executive head and bookkeeping; D. Ray Baum, high school principal, history and government; J. Clinton Pine, chemistry, industrial arts and mathematics; Allen Willoughby, head coach, biology and general science; Mrs. Jean March, English, Latin and physical education; Joseph Beeson, driver education, mathematics; Gilbert Woodburn, vocational agriculture; C. A. Brooks, seventh grade; Mrs. Lena Threlkeld, sixth grade; Verda Baker, third grade; Mrs. Florence Kellogg, fifth grade; Grace England, fourth grade; Mrs. Pauline Fortney, second grade; Mrs. Georgian Kellogg, second grade; Miss Marcella Ickes, first grade; Mrs. Vera Blackburn, first grade.

School employes are: Mrs. Ellen Musgrave and Miss Marjorie Hune, cooks; Clair Wetherill, custodian; Morris Burk, Herman Musgrave, Edward Betts, Clarence Dilley, Amel Frederick and Adrian Peart, bus drivers; Mrs. Stella Freed, librarian; Mrs. Margaret Baum, school secretary.

New courses added to the curriculum are industrial arts and driver education. Blackburn pointed out that because of the curriculum changes and almost every required high school course needing two sections this year, it was necessary to employ two additional high school teachers.

Considerable interior decorating at the school has been done during the summer months. The gymnasium, upstairs hallway and locker rooms in the high school have been painted.

Truman Slated To Open 5-Speech Tour Tonight

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—Indiana Democrats came to French Lick today for the opening of Harry S. Truman's speaking tour at the 75th anniversary banquet of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Assn., tonight.

The speech is the first of five the former president has scheduled the next several weeks. He is expected to lambast the Republicans in the style of his successful 1948 campaign.

From here Truman will go to Mackinac Island to speak to the Michigan Democratic Conference Monday.

Starcher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Starcher of Bolair, W. Va.

Richard Oberdier, Marion County Air Force ROTC cadet at Ohio University, is attending annual summer training at Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Tex.

Oberdier, who resides near LaRue, has completed his junior year in advanced Air Force ROTC at Ohio University. He will be eligible for appointment as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve and entry into flight training for his pilot's wings upon graduation.

Trago Defense Set To Rest in Jackson Case

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—The defense prepared to rest its case today in the morals trial of Jackson County Sheriff David L. Trago, 52. Trago's attorney, John A. Staker, said the defense has called a psychiatrist as a final witness to testify about the sheriff's personality pattern.

Staker identified the witness as Dr. Nicholas Michael, president of the Ohio Psychiatric Assn.

Trago, father of 12 children, is charged with contributing to the delinquency of David L. Hatfield, a 17-year-old Gallipolis airman whose mother filed the charge.

The youth testified Trago made lewd proposals to him July 1. He said the sheriff gave him a lift from Jackson to Gallipolis on that date. The youth's furlough was extended so he could testify at the trial.

The state contends Trago gave the airman a ride sometime between 4 and 6 p.m. Three witnesses testified yesterday that Trago was seen in his home county about 5 and 6 p.m. on July 1.

The witnesses were John E. Brown of near Oak Hill and William Setzer who lives between Jackson and Oak Hill. Both said the sheriff served them with legal papers, Brown about 5 p. m. and Setzer about 6 p.m.

Another witness, Charles H. Wilson, a neighbor of Setzer, said he saw Trago inspecting a hay field on Setzer s farm during the late afternoon on July 1.

This is the second morals trial involving the sheriff in recent months. He was acquitted of a similar charge in his home county.

Trago, who claims he's the victim of a political smear, is the only elected Democrat in Jackson County.

Cleveland Man Crushed

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 52-year-old maintenance man died today a few hours after he was crushed beneath the wheels of a dump truck at the Ford Motor Co. foundry in Brook Park. The victim, Edgar Cirulis, died at Fairview Park Hospital.

C46 Crash Lands, Burns, 18 Rescued

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—An Air Force C46 transport plane made a crash landing and caught fire Friday night at the Joplin airport.

The copilot, Lt. Joseph A. Sheppard of Overland Park, Kan., suffered a laceration on the head. No one else was hurt.

The plane from the Grandview, Mo., AFB, undershot the runway, ripped off its landing gear in a ditch and skidded to a stop on its belly about 200 yards along the highway. Firemen doused the flames.

There were 19 aboard the plane, including Maj. Neal Grumbaugh of Springfield, Mo., commander of the 442nd Troop Carrier Wing reserve unit.

Grandview AFB officials said another plane would be sent to pick up the 18 uninjured men.

where most people save:

AT THE BANK

More people save at the bank than anywhere else—and here are a few of their mighty good reasons why:

"IT'S SAFE — sound bank management, carefully restricted investments, close government supervision, modern physical safeguards — plus the fact that deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $10,000 for each depositor — combine to protect my savings funds at the bank as they could be protected nowhere else!"

"IT'S CONVENIENT — I like to save where I can do all my banking at the same time — under the same roof!"

"IT'S HELPFUL — my money earns interest for me while I am waiting to use it — without my having to make an investment; and when I need credit, I find that having a growing bank balance is a big help in getting a low-cost bank loan!"

"IT'S PLEASANT — I have a special, personal feeling about saving at my bank — the bankers who serve me make me feel at home, and show a real interest in helping me with my money matters!"

Galion

An imaginary airplane trip to Europe was taken by members of the Golden Age Club when the August meeting was held Wednesday in Peace Lutheran parish house. The program feature was provided by Miss Florence Durtschi who showed the group pictures of Europe which she took when she visited there. A song written for the club by Mrs. Paul Durtschi was introduced by her when she led group singing with Mrs. Charles Tracht at the piano. The program also included music presented by clarinet pupils of Miss Jean Tavens who appeared as a quartet. Those taking part were Virginia Decker, Joan Chandler, Martha Edler and Marilyn Roop. Piano selections were played by Judy Bishop.

Lima Rededicates Ottawa River After Cleanup Program

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—City officials, civic leaders and Gov. Frank J. Lausche gathered here last night to observe rededication ceremonies of the Ottawa River.

Almost 200 persons witnessed the ceremonies which climaxed this city's $246,000 Ottawa River improvement program.

The civic program began in 1951 when citizens of Lima approved a $220,800 bond issue designed to speed river improvements.

The ceremonies were held in conjunction with the dedication of the new Lima senior high school. The school was officially opened Thursday night.

A spokesman said the program's funds were used to remove silt and debris from the river. Funds also were used to construct two new dams, repair existing dams and make other major improvements, he said.

Unionist's Wife Plans Divorce In Strike Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—Militant Esther Quigley, who ran afoul of the law fighting a strike called by her union-official husband, is resting her case.

The 35-year-old housewife said today she plans no further effort to end the walkout of Local 1214, CIO United Auto Workers, against the Harrison Sheet Metal Co.

"I've done all I can do," she said in an interview. "I'm through. My husband, who is partially to blame for more than 400 men being out of work, is locked out of the house now. And, if those men aren't back on the job Monday, he'll stay out for good"

By this, she said, she means she'll institute divorce action against Andrew Quigley, 33, a steward in the union

Mrs. Quigley's lockout against Andrew began Tuesday because, she explained, "he and a bunch of other smart union officials went around and called the men off the job while they still had a contract and while negotiations for a new contract were going on.

"It's not a question of getting my husband back to work. He's out of a job. He was fired for calling the men out prematurely. But he can let the others go back

"My husband is young and strong and he can get another job. But some of the other men are older and might not be able to get other jobs A lot of them would go back to work if my husband and those other officials would let them Their families need the paychecks"

Mrs. Quigley and the wife of another striker went to the picketed plant Friday to plead that the men return to work.

While there she tangled with Nicholas Prete, president of the union local. Police separated them and both were charged with disorderly conduct. They were released under $10 bond pending a Sept. 1 court appearance.

Mrs. Quigley, mother of four children, had said the workers should end the strike because their children need milk.

Prete walked up to Mrs. Quigley and her companion with a carton of milk and offered it to them. Mrs Quigley shoved the milk back at Prete and they grappled.

Prete said she tore off his shirt and scratched his shoulder

"It took two cops to pull me off him," said the 126-pound Mrs Quigley "It's a good thing they did or, so help me, I would have scratched his eyes out"

180 Dead, 200 Injured As Dam Breaks in India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The newspaper Indian Express reported today that 180 persons were killed and 200 injured when a swollen reservoir burst its banks and washed away the village of Kalu near Jodhpur 200 miles southwest of New Delhi.

Actor Wins Divorce, Says He's Henpecked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — He-man actor Sterling Hayden has divorced his wife—who is exactly 12 inches shorter than he—with the explanation that she henpecked him.

"She tried to dominate me completely," Hayden, 39, told Superior Court Friday. He said that his wife of eight years, Betty, 33, a former Pasadena, Calif., society figure, tried to "dictate who should be my friends and order my social and business conduct."

Xenia Solicitor Resigns

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—W. A. Miller, city solicitor here for more than 25 years, has resigned effective Nov. 1.

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! Guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship It is a storehouse of spiritual values Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Castings Firm Leaves Morral

Marion Owners Sign Lease of Delaware Site

The General Castings Co of Morral, owned by two Marion brothers, has leased a plant in Delaware and is moving its operations there The Morral plant will be closed

The controlling owners of General Castings, John E and Lowell C Midlam, signed a 10-year lease of the Root-Conersville Foundry in Delaware on Thursday The owners of the Delaware factory site are George Beall and Al Worly of Delaware The lease includes the plant, machinery and eight acres of land

The Delaware plant was leased, the Midlams reported, because the Morral plant had become too small for the growing operations of the firm The Delaware plant will have a capacity of about 500,000 pounds in its 30,000 square feet of floor space compared to the 200,000 pound capacity of the Morral plant

The General Castings Co casts all types of heavy machinery for industries with one of its biggest production items being power shovel castings The Morral plant has been managed by the Midlams since 1947 and was incorporated in 1943

Operations at the Delaware plant will be under way by mid-September The firm will start with 40 employes, some of them from Morral and others to be hired in Delaware

Mr and Mrs John E Midlam and son, John Carl, of 501 Bellefontaine Ave , and Mr and Mrs Lowell Midlam of 487 Bellefontaine Ave , plan to sell their homes here and move to Delaware.

In the Footsteps of Marshall

Among the lawyers who heard President Eisenhower's tribute to the great Chief Justice John Marshall at the American Bar Association convention in Philadelphia, there were many who are aware of the continuing need for strong legal minds in a republic built on law.

During his 34 years as chief justice of the United States, Marshall established the dignity and power of the federal judiciary. He performed invaluable service to his profession in a new society which lawyers were destined to dominate in many ways.

During the Bar Association convention, delegates heard a discussion of the use being made of the Fifth Amendment by witnesses in trials and hearings connected with the Communist conspiracy. There is a difference of opinion among lawyers about this. Some think the Fifth Amendment's use must not be restricted. Others question its unrestricted use in situations where it never was intended to apply.

This difference of opinion is vital. Lawyers, themselves, are responsible for advising clients to use the Fifth Amendment. When they advise them to use it improperly, they are violating their professional oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States.

The Fifth Amendment is used improperly when it is given as the reason for refusing to answer a question which might incriminate someone else. It was intended solely to protect a witness from testifying against himself, as every lawyer knows.

If the legal profession wanted to honor John Marshall on the 200th anniversary of his birth this year, it would do something about lawyers who nibble at the foundation of the Constitution with the sharp teeth of legalistic expendiency.

Improvement in the Fair

A week ago there appeared in this space an editorial dealing with the problems of county fairs, and expressing the hope that this year's Marion County fair would show improvement over those of previous years.

It's only fitting, therefore, that at its conclusion we should report that it very definitely was improved. In fact, officials and veteran patrons alike agreed that it was one of the finest fairs held in Marion County in many years.

Attendance figures certainly help to bear out their opinion, since the total of 18,683 represented a gain of 3,553 over the 1954 event.

Improvement was noticeable in almost every department. The midway had a lot more "rides" and other attractions, the exhibits were excellent, the livestock was outstanding in both quantity and quality, and the whole tone of the fair was brightened.

We congratulate the fair officials and every single participant for a job well done. Continued improvement on the same scale in future years eventually should make the Marion County Fair one of the best in the state.

That would be quite proper for a fair that draws from one of the leading farming areas in Ohio.

Simultaneous Disarmament

Treasury Secretary Humphrey's hint of income tax reductions next year is related to the long-deferred meeting of the United Nations disarmament subcommittee in New York beginning Aug. 29.

If the Kremlin can convince the White House that it has a genuine interest in ridding itself of an armament burden that weighs even more heavily on the Soviet Union than armaments weigh on the United States, defense costs could be slashed by billions.

The subcommittee is charged with the duty of getting down to bed rock on the disarmament proposals made at Geneva on July 21. Harold E. Stassen, special presidential assistant on disarmament, has been preparing a detailed plan. It is assumed the Russians have been busy, too.

President Eisenhower and Premier Bulganin both made proposals at Geneva; each said afterward his government would consider the other's proposal. Great Britain, France and Canada also are represented on the U N. disarmament subcommittee.

Up to this time, the subcommittee has been paralyzed by lack of serious intent on the only two governments that could set an example in disarmament — the United States and the Soviet Union. It came to life after Geneva.

The disarmament problem today is what it always has been among nations that had no immediate intention of going to war—how to bring about simultaneous action. No one wants to be the first to lay down his gun in an atmosphere of armed tension.

Theoretically, however, there is a way to relieve the tension just enough to permit the gun to be dropped from a shooting position, which is the aim of all disarmament proposals. That is the possibility which will be discussed in New York, with direct bearing on the possibility of a tax cut in 1956.

After a profound study, the Air Force comes to the conclusion that expectant fathers sometimes get nervous. This is an idea that any mathematician could have proved years ago by dividing the number of fathers in the maternity ward waiting room into the number of cigarette butts in the ash trays.

Religion In and On the Job

The Fall Roundup

By EUGENE CARR

Vacation days are almost over. Schools are preparing for the return of students. Business and industry are unfolding new plans. Housewives are looking ahead to the change of season and many duties and responsibilities that will come with it.

Soon we will stepup the tempo of living from a leisurely summertime pace to a brisk routine of fall and winter activity.

We sense the stir of this transition. We anticipate the crack of the bat in the World Series, the cheers of football crowds and the babble of voices on school playgrounds.

Slip covers and porch furniture will disappear as heavier clothing comes out of storage and yards and gardens are made ready for winter.

We'll take up the slack in our job habits and settle a little firmer into the harness. It's the time of year to "get down to business" in those matters which are truly important to us.

But, do we do so in every respect? Do we go all the way? How about our church affiliations?

We busy ourselves around the home, launch headlong into the school year and take a new grip on our jobs, but do we include the church and its program among those institutions that deserve a new interest and determination on our part at this time of year?

There probably isn't any one of us who would admit that his church is not important to him, just as important as his home, his job or the schools of the community. Yet, so often, we do not apply the same yardstick of importance to the church as to other influences we consider important to us.

Clergymen are now returning to their congregations, refreshed and renewed in spirit following well-earned periods of vacation and rest. They come home with sermons planned well in advance. They, too, look forward to a greater, more successful season of activity They are full of hope and ambition for the months ahead.

How much do we know about these hopes and plans? Have we made it our business to find out?

We make it our business to know and understand the problems of the family, the workings of a job, and the values of schooling, but we do not always link the church into the chain of influences that need our support and attention.

You ask your doctor for medical advice, consult with the grocer about foods, talk with your boss about your work. When did you last discuss your religious life with your clergyman and determine how you could be a more useful, effective church worker?

It isn't just a case of being consistent, even though consistency, in itself, would dictate that you give your church an equal place alongside other vital interests in your scheme of things.

It's a case of rounding out your life to a fullness and completeness that comes only through an application of time and talent and energy to the religious interest that contributes so much to the faith and confidence you have in the home, the job and other important responsibilities that occupy your attention.

Dear Nephew: I wonder what I would use for laughs without the newspaper. Sometimes I laugh with them, sometimes at them.

This time I am laughing with them. The story that has roused my risibilities, if I may rip off a phrase, is about the scrub boys in the public baths in Tokyo. I hope you saw it too, but maybe it was too frothy for you.

Some of the more modest women over there in Japan have been getting skittish about having men attendants to scrub backs and handle all the chores around the public baths, where most Japanese people go to get cleaned up. They have been asking why women workers couldn't be substituted for men in the women's sections. So far so good.

But when this one Japanese lady wrote to a Tokyo newspaper that women didn't like the men ogling them, that was a mistake. I think the shower boy's answer to her complaint is a minor classic.

"For us, naked women are just chores," he snorted "Only women with clothes have appeal when you're on this kind of a job."

There it is, all wrapped up in one statement — the sum total of the difference between satiety and starvation. The course of wisdom lies in between, with a view in both directions.

I could hardly wait until the sweet corn was ripe enough to eat this year. I was starved for roasting ears. Ours were late in maturing, but I waited for them, instead of buying some to take the edge off my appetite. Then the first night your aunt prepared sweet corn, I ate so much I haven't enjoyed it since. I am not wise enough to understand that satiety is just as hard to put up with as starvation — harder, I guess, because you hate yourself for something you could have avoided.

Never having been a scrub boy in a Tokyo public bath, I am not prepared to say how it would be in the matter of unclothed women. But I do know that waitresses in restaurants get tired of looking at food and that apprentice clerks in candy stores quickly get over their interest in candy.

I know that people who are introspective get sick of looking at themselves and that those who mix it up too freely with other people get bored with society. I know that most bank tellers learn to handle money without itching to pilfer it and that undertakers do not cry at funerals.

Anyway, that scrub boy gave me a lift because I think he said something that women, particularly, are not likely to think of in view of their profound conviction they are least resistible when they are wearing the least clothing. Vanity, vanity . . .

We have been canning ton atoes. We intended to redecorate the kitchen anyway. Your aunt thinks she is ready to change the color again. She hasn't changed it for two years. By the way, if you need elderberries, now is the time to start looking. That dry weather didn't do them any good, but if you can find a nice, juicy marsh you should be able to get enough for your annual quota of elderberry pies.

Pass around our regards indiscriminately among the members of the family. There will be enough for all.

Hornless Dorset

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — A new breed of hornless Dorset sheep has been developed by Prof. Lemuel Goode, North Carolina Experiment Station scientist.

With his horns, a Dorset is a picturesque animal with great spiraling horns.

The Dorset has great commercial possibilities in the South, Goode says, but never has been popular with Southern sheepmen because its horns make it difficult to manage.

Critics of U.S. Security

By David Lawrence

President Eisenhower gave all the extremists who want to soften the security system of the United States something to think about when he said the other day to the American Bar Association in Philadelphia.

Lawrence

"An international political machine, operating within the borders of sovereign nations for their political and ideological subversion, cannot be explained away as a cultural movement"

This is a realistic answer to those who have been steadily poohpoohing the Communist conspiracy in the United States and who now argue that it is of no importance or that there is really nothing to worry about.

But at the Pentagon, where they have secrets about guided missiles for the future and such important facts as the location of our stock-piles of atomic bombs and weapons, they are not yet ready to abandon all security measures and let the Russians have carbon copies of all code messages.

The truth is the fight for an effective security system has only just begun The mistake heretofore has been the failure of the authorities here to tell the American people just why security measures are needed and what the methods and techniques of the Soviets really are.

Maybe some philanthropist will donate 15 million dollars to tell the side of the story which the so-called Fund for the Republic, financed by the Ford Foundation, does not tell—as, for instance, both sides of the Oppenheimer story.

THE SECURITY SYSTEM is interested in whether any member of the armed services has close relatives in the Communist party or behind the iron curtain.

This isn't because the soldier or sailor is himself suspect but because he could be blackmailed later and subjected to pressure if his relatives behind the iron curtain were tortured or those on this side were subjected to other pressures.

Then there is the question of legal procedures The anti-anti-Communists glibly argue, in effect, that an American citizen with knowledge of a conspiracy in which he himself is guiltless must not be required to tell his government the facts

Their theory also is that an alleged conspirator should never be indicted by a grand jury if there is doubt about his guilt They contend bitterly that an innocent man must not have his reputation hurt

If his associations have been of a suspicious nature, he is bound to be called for a hearing or a trial at which he has an opportunity to establish his innocence.

With Communist stooges like Alger Hiss immune from prosecution because the time for possible indictment under certain laws had expired, it was fortunate that the House Committee on Un-American Activities was able to expose Hiss and force a trial on perjury charges

VICE PRESIDENT NIXON, who was a member of the committee that caught Alger Hiss, has just made a speech to the American Bar Association on the phony criticism being made of congressional committees. He said:

"In times past much of the criticism of congressional investigations was directed to procedures rather than to substance. But even in recent weeks when committees with admittedly fair procedures have been conducting investigations in this field the criticism continues.

"It is apparent that the real basic objection of most of the critics is not how committees investigate in this field—but what. Some contend that this problem should be left to the courts. But the courts can move only when a crime is committed, and this may be too late when dealing with a conspiracy.

"Others say we should leave investigations to the FBI—they are experts. But the FBI can investigate only. It cannot expose. It cannot institute prosecutions. Still others contend that congressional committees are limited constitutionally to investigations which are conducted for the specific purpose of developing legislation.

"BUT I SUBMIT an outstanding authority to the contrary. Woodrow Wilson declared there were three recognized functions of congressional investigating committees—(1) Determining what laws to enact; (2 Checking the executive branch's enforcement of law; and (3) Informing the public. The third function—informing the public—he said was perhaps the most valuable of all.

"I can testify by experience that against Communist activity which is by nature and definition secret and conspiratorial, there is no more effective weapon than exposure. In my opinion, properly conducted congressional investigations of Communist activities deserve the full support of the lawyers of America."

Most of the critics are themselves loyal and sincere but many of them also are naive. They know little about the facts of Communist conspiracies or else refuse to read the records of exposure in nearly every country in the world. It is an "international political machine" which Soviet Russia has set up in America and elsewhere, and it engages constantly in attempts at subversion.

CONGRESS HAS recognized the evil and passed certain laws to protect the nation. But apologists for the "Philosophical" Communist still abound. They still argue that membership in the Communist party is merely a matter of "political beliefs," and that the Communist conspiracy which involves murders, kidnappings and blackmail within our own country is just a figment of McCarthy's imagination.

As for so-called "McCarthyism," it isn't dead because the anti-McCarthyites have adopted some of the same techniques for which they condemned the Wisconsin senator. They are selecting isolated excerpts from one side of official proceedings and are using them in an effort to belittle, if not break down, security measures.

Also they are damaging the American government's influence abroad by trying to drive a wedge between Secretary Dulles and the President or by misrepresenting over-all American policy as ready to appease and surrender traditional ideals on a peace-at-any-price basis.

These are the steadily mounting tactics of political opponents of the administration and their left-wing spokesmen

Harriman Boom Readied

By ALAN EMORY

A campaign to secure the Democratic presidential nomination for Gov. Averell Harriman of New York will get under way in full force in Washington, next month.

Organizing the drive aimed at next year's party convention will be James M. Mead, whose term as Federal Trade commissioner is due to expire. He will begin beating the drums for Harriman as Washington office director of the New York State Commerce Department, an appointment that is expected to be announced shortly.

As "New York's ambassador to Washington," as one informant put it, Mead's real efforts will be bent in two directions.

He will try to impress upon Democratic congressmen and senators the reasons for Harriman's nomination at the Chicago convention next summer.

And he will do some traveling around the country with the same object in mind — booming the Harriman candidacy.

Mead is no stranger on Capitol Hill. As a Federal Trade commissioner and as a former representative and senator he is privy to the cloakrooms and the chamber floors

Although Mead's spot on the FTC is reserved for a Democrat, President Eisenhower passed him by in favor of William Kern of Indiana This not only angered Mead's New Deal-Fair Deal Democratic friends, but constituted a rebuff to Republican Sen. Ives, who personally asked the White House to rename the former legislator.

Sen. Ives, who has been having patronage difficulties with the Eisenhower administration, put it this way:

This was a Democratic vacancy on the commission. Mead was the only New Yorker on the FTC, and New York is a major industrial state. Therefore, keeping Mead on seemed logical

The White House replied, however, that Mead would reach the retirement age of 70 in December, and only a presidential executive order would have enabled him to stay on beyond that time.

Ironically, Mead cosponsored legislation, when he was chairman of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, retaining the mandatory age 70 retirement provision for independent commission members.

The President has used his prerogative of keeping over - age personnel in commission jobs on occasion, but he decided against exercising it in the case of Mead. His salary as chief of New York's Commerce Department Washington office is reported to be around $13 000 a year

In years past the department office here has served to publicize the political activities of then Gov. Dewey.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The 'Sock' of the Month

Broadway, Radio City and the Great Unseen Audience are playing a brand new game as a result of a scathing novel on radio, "The Great Man" by Al Morgan. The top fictional character is an airwave celebrtiy with a nationwide following as a good-natured, lovable charm boy, but is pictured as a terrible phony.

The new guessing game could be programmed as "Poison To Poison," "Place the MACE," "What's My Target?" or "Name that Harpoon Victim." In fact the story could be billed as "Medic, With Sulletos" It is a sort of "Zoo Parade" from Radio City. Never has an author, knowing all the airwave slants, painted such a tawdry picture of the business. Cries of "Who, me?" are being heard from agents, vice-presidents and performers.

"HE COULD TELL a dirty story and have all the old ladies in the radio audience think him a darling. . . He could mistreat everybody who worked with him, terrorizing them at rehearsals and then do a big switch on the air and sound like a lovable old father. . . He had delusions of grandeur . . . The hold on his audience went to his head. . . He was a dirty little boy who had grown too big to be spanked. A few years back he was just another buy in a sailor suit on a 200-watt station." Al Morgan thus describes his top banana.

THE AUTHOR EMPLOYS the standard "no resemblance to anybody living or dead" routine and insists he is fingering no one individual. It could be a "composite." You can find certain likenesses to numerous airwave performers. But is there in radio anywhere a household favorite who has the loathsome, vile, brutal, low-level characteristics drawn by Morgan in creating his "Herb Fuller, king of the outdoor aerials"? Be that as it may, the novel on radio business is hardboiled, racy, vulgar and pitiless, and has the amusement world and the unseen audience gabbing.

One character sums up radio with, "What kind of a con game do you think we're in? You're a con man. We all are. We're pushing beer, cigarettes and furniture polish instead of the Brooklyn Bridge and gold bricks."

One of the biggies of a national network admits his inability to control his stars in these words. "I'd pass on his scripts and he'd throw in something on the air and leave me holding the bag. He said some very dirty things on the air, you know."

THE BIG POINT in the story is a Valentino-like funeral for Herb Fuller, in which all radio city connives at putting him across, even in death, as a wonderful family entertainer, although they all knew him to be a no-good. Felonious deceptions of the public, referred to as "the great unwashed," "yaks" and "peasants" are chronicled from cover to cover with the biggest executives in radio helping to perpetrate them. Maybe Mr. Morgan is making the characters up out of his own head. But we find few who think so. And the public response to his Herb Fuller is a continuing "Who dat?"

Groundbreaking Slated By Ohio Edison Officials

Ground breaking ceremonies signalling the start of construction of a new half-million-dollar service building for the Ohio Edison Co. will be held at the construction site on Route 4 just south of Marion at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Harold J. Grigsby, local manager for the company, said local company officials and representatives of the general contractor will be on hand for the groundbreaking.

To be located on part of 23 acres of land, the building will cover a total of 38,000 square feet. It will serve as a storage and service building and will house materials, trucks, appliance repair shop, meter and transformer testing equipment and so on. Work on the building is expected to be completed by early next summer.

Postal Workers To Retire

C. D. Fail

Livingston Dickason

TWO VETERAN employes of the Marion Postoffice, with a combined total of over 60 years of service, will be retiring on Sept. 1 ad Oct. 1, Postmaster Homer D. Cole announced today.

They are C. D. (Dutch) Fail, who is a city carrier on the W. Center St downtown business district, and Livingston T. Dickason, who is a parcel post carrier in the east-end residential district.

Fail, who lives on Route 529, started his service with the postoffice in December, 1923, and for the last 9 years has worked the W Center St. district.

When he retires on Sept 1, Fail plans to devote more time to his "Sunset Gardens," where he grows flowers, fruits and berries. He also plans to "get caught up" on bass fishing.

He is married to the former Geneva McMurray.

Dickason, whose service with the postoffice started in January, 1923, will retire Oct. 1. He has driven a parcel post truck in the east end of Marion for the last 10 years

He and his wife, the former Norma Randolph, reside on Route 98 at the Edison Rd., with their two children, Nette Lou and Gene. Dickason plans to do some gardening and raise livestock during his retirement years.

Prospect School Opens Sept. 6; Staff Includes 4 New Teachers

Two additional and two replacement teachers have been employed at Prospect School, which will open its doors Sept. 6 for the 1955-56 school year

Only a half-day session will be held at the school on Tuesday, Sept. 6. Kindergarten pupils will begin their classes on Wednesday, Sept. 7 with the pupils who live in the country attending in the forenoon and the children who live in Prospect attending the afternoon session. Mrs. Jean Reed is the kindergarten teacher.

The kindergarten classes will continue to be held in the township house. The eight classrooms of the elementary building will be used by the first five grades and two sixth grade classes will be housed in the high school building. Vocational-agriculture classes and shop will be held in the vocational - agriculture building, east of the school.

To Vote on Issue

Voters of the Prospect School district will be asked this fall to approve a bond issue of $75,000 for the construction of three additional classrooms on the upper floor of the high school building and for other necessary repairs to the present buildings.

The elementary teaching staff will have one additional teacher and one teacher to replace Mrs. Eleanor Cameron, sixth grade instructor. The high school has an additional teacher for biology, history and junior high physical education and a new music director to replace Miss Charlotte Leonard who plans to teach in Athens County this year.

Announces Staff

The complete staff at Prospect this year includes: Clyde F. Forry, superintendent; Mrs. Jean Reed, kindergarten; Mrs. Mary Lloyd, first grade; Mrs. Ola Uncapher, first; Miss Helen Donnally, second; Mrs. Mary Nicodemus, second; Mrs. Mildred McNeal, third; Miss Della Wells, third and fourth; Mrs. Margaret Roberts, fourth.

Slander Suit Killed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A slander suit asking $850,000 damages from Rep. Wayne L. Hayes (D-Ohio) was dismissed yesterday in federal district court. The action was brought by Aaron M. Sargent, San Francisco attorney, who said Hayes made slanderous remarks about him on an NBC-TV broadcast in May, 1954. Judge Thomas F. Murphy said the court did not have jurisdiction.

Local Grange Wins State Fair Judging

The Marion County entry in the Grange booth contest at the Ohio State Fair won second place, members of the Bethlehem Grange learned Friday night.

Receiving the top award among 15 entries was the booth created by Ashley Grange of Delaware County, it was also reported.

The Bethlehem Grange booth became eligible to be entered in the state contest after it won the first place award in the Marion County Fair competition. The booths at the state fair were judged Friday morning, but the results will not be official until late today after the auditor has checked entry requirements.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fogle served as chairmen of the Bethlehem Grange booth committee.

Night Courses Slated Here by Ohio Northern

Marion is one of six cities where evening classes in various courses will be offered by Ohio Northern University.

Beginning Sept. 26, American Literature will be given on Mondays and history of Ohio starting Sept. 27, will be given on Tuesdays.

The classes will be held at Eber Baker Junior High School at 7 p.m. and university officials expect enrollment to be large enough to warrant other courses.

History of German civilization will be given Wednesday evenings beginning Sept. 28 at Kenton High School. At Marysville classes in English History will be held Thursdays at Marysville High School beginning Sept. 29.

Other courses will be given at Bellefontaine, Van Wert and Lima.

All courses with the exception of mathematics carry three quarter hours credit toward graduation, the university says, and classes are open to anyone.

Criminologist Says More Discipline Is Needed by Children

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — A University of California criminologist has come out for more discipline of children even though he admits it may breed more neurotics.

Dr. Douglas M. Kelley is especially critical of some followers of the Austrian father of psychoanalysis, Sigmund Freud, who advocate complete lack of disciplinary training.

Even though strict training at home might produce more compulsive personalities, Kelley insisted it would produce fewer juvenile delinquents and criminal psychopaths.

Complete lack of discipline, Kelley said, may perpetuate immature childhood behavior. Such immaturity consists of extreme self-centeredness, confusion of daydreams with reality, emotional volatility, and an inability to make critical evaluations.

Kelley said these patterns are normal in a young child but dangerous in adolescents and adults. The criminologist has called for a middle ground between the "old fashioned straitjacket" discipline and the extreme "permissiveness" that impedes the learning of self-control.

Upper Watchman Retires From Post

UPPER SANDUSKY — Edward F. Orians, 75, watchman - janitor for 13 years at the Daybrook Hydraulic Division plant of the L. A. Young Co. here, retired today at the close of his regular eight-hour work shift.

A lifetime resident of the community, he was previously employed for 29 years at the local Wyandot Clay Products and now operated by the Claycraft Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Orians live in Upper Sandusky and he plans to follow his hobby of gardening with even greater interest following his retirement. The Orians were married Sept. 7, 1907, in St. Peter's Catholic Church here with Rev. John R. Forrer officiating. They have four children, Frederick Orians, of Upper Sandusky, Mrs. Mary Leona Dick of Kenton, Mrs. Rita Karg and Mrs. Janet Robertson, also of Upper Sandusky. There are 13 grandchildren.

Orians will be 76 on Nov. 15 and his health is good even though he admits his legs are not as spry as they used to be after a big day of sweepig and wheeling chips from the machines in the shop. Employes of the shop presented Ed a lounge chair and a box of cigars to help him take it easy.

Theater Attractions

Following is a summary of the motion pictures that will be presented at theaters in Marion next week.

—Ohio—

"The Virgin Queen," new Cinemascope production in color starring Bette Davis as Queen Elizabeth I, will be the main attraction of a double feature showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Ohio Theater. Also starred are Richard Todd and Joan Collins, with Jay Robinson, Herbert Marshall and Dan O'Herlihy heading the supporting cast.

Completing the billing will be "Betrayed Women," expose of antiquated penal methods in these modern times. Starred are Carole Mathews, Beverly Michaels, Peggy Knudsen and Tom Drake.

"The Virgin Queen" is a tale of adventure and court intrigue surrounding the brief but memorable appearace of Walter Raleigh into the intimate circle of the Queen's court. It tells how be came one of the Queen's favorites and how he arranged to have himself presented at court. Supposedly he wanted to report on his military activity in Ireland as a captain of cavalry. Actually, he wanted to gain the Queen's favor in order to persuade her to outfit three ships which he might sail to the New World.

The story in "Betrayed Women" begins when Honey, played by Beverly Michaels, is sentenced to prison after her boy friend has been killed in a gun fight with police. In prison, she falls in with a tough prisoner always planning an escape and another serving time for a theft by which she had hoped to help her younger brother. The three, suspicious of the honesty of a prison investigation being conducted by an agent for the governor, finally manage to make their escape.

Showing Wednesday and Thursday will be another double feature, "Branded," in technicolor, and "Submarine Command." Starring Alan Ladd, Mona Freeman and Charles Bickford, the former is the story of a gunfighter whose services are for hire. The latter, which tells of a submarine's duties during the Korean war, stars William Holden, Nancy Olson, William Bedix and Don Taylor.

Opening Friday is "Pete Kelly's Blues," a melodrama-with-music. Starring in the Cinemascope and color production are Jack Webb, Janet Leigh, Edmund O'Brien, Peggy Lee, Andy Devine, Lee Marvin and Ella Fitzgerald.

The picture depicts a story of violence during the most violent years of contemporary history, the roaring 20s. It is told as it happened to Pete Kelly, a cornet-playing jazz man from Kansas City. Pete and his Big 7 Dixieland band are playig at a "speakeasy" called Rick's, and when he meets Ivy, Pete begins to live the blues. Then to add to his troubles a big-time mobster decides he wants a piece of Pete's band and starts to move in.

Showing last times tonight as a documentary film, "Mau Mau," and "Skabenga," filmization of a big game hunting expedition in South Africa, along with a sneak preview.

JERRY LEWIS, masquerading as an 11-year-old in an attempt to evade a killer, threatens Dean Martin with his milk-pistol in this scene from the laugh hit, "You're Never Too Young," which currently is playing through Wednesday, at the Palace Theater. The film co-start Diana Lynn and Nina Foch.

Palace — Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Diana Lynn and Nina Foch in "You're Never Too Young" at 2.50, 6:25 and 9 5, and George Montgomery, Richard Boone, Sylvia Findley and Bruce Bennett in "Robbers' Roost" at 1:30, 5 and 8 35.

South Drive-In — Elizabeth Taylor, Van Johnon, Walter Pidgeon and Donna Reed in "The Last Time I Saw Paris."

State — Sterling Hayden and Yvonne DeCarlo in "Shotgun" and George Montgomery in "Seminole Uprising"

—Palace—

"You're Never Too Young," starring the comedy team of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, is the feature attraction of a double billing currently showing through Wednesday at the Palace Theater.

The second feature is "Robbers' Roost," adapted from one of Zane Grey's novels of the Old West.

Co - starred with Martin and Lewis in "You're Never Too Young" are Diana Lynn and Nina Foch.

In the film, Martin and Lewis are the unwitting possessors of a stolen diamond and therefore the objects of ruthless pursuit by the killer-thief who has planted it on them. Jerry has to pose as an 11-year-old and take cover in the all-girls school where Dean teaches. There he is trapped between the murderous passes of the killer and the amorous passes of 200 teen-age co-eds. The predicament is further complicated by a four-way romance.

"Robbers' Roost" co - stars George Montgomery, Richard Boone, Sylvia Findley and Bruce Benett and is the story of two rival gangs of rustlers deliberately pitted against each other. A once-active ranch owner, now confined to a wheel chair, decides to protect his vast herd of cattle by hiring two of the West's toughest gangs of rustlers as overseers. He counts on their distrust of each other to act as a prevention against his cattle being stolen.

Billed for Thursday through Saturday is another double feature, "The Cobweb," in Cinemascope and color and starring Richard Widmark, Lauren Bacall, Charles Boyer, Gloria Grahame, Lillian Gish, John Kerr and Susan Strasberg, and "Wakamba," a documentary film in color.

The story in "The Cobweb" is concerned with what goes on behind the scenes in the lives of the staff and patients of a lush psychiatric clinic.

"Wakamba" is a pictorial record of African tribal customs and a great variety of wild life. Scenes of an elephant hunt also are shown. Tondu, the hunter, risks his life many times to track down Enju, the mighty bull elephant, to obtain ivory tusks of sufficient size to buy the hand of Lundalla, native beauty. He is aided by the sorcery of Sulu, witch doctor, and makes his kill with a poisoned arrow.

—North Drive-In—

"Three Ring Circus," set against the colorful background of an actual circus and starring Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, will be the attraction Sunday through Tuesday at the North Drive-In Theater. Heading the supporting cast are Joanne Dru and Zsa Zsa Gabor.

The story has the comedians as two ex-GIs who decide to make their future by working for a circus. It is Jerry's ambition to become a clown. How he accomplishes this position in the circus and how Dean's usual romantic entanglements are finally solved make the story.

Billed for Wednesday through Saturday as a first run attraction is "House of Bamboo," a suspense thriller in Cinemascope and color, filmed in Tokyo.

Heading the cast are Robert Ryan, Robert Stack, Shirley Yamaguchi and Cameron Mitchell.

The story deals with a band of American gangsters who remain in Tokyo and start criminal operations under the leadership of Robert Ryan. Robert Stack, acting as a secret agent of the American authorities, poses as a discharged army prisoner and worms his way into membership in the gang. With the aid of Shirley Yamaguchi, as a music hall girl whose American husband was killed serving as an accomplice of the gang, he sets out to trap the mobsters.

—South Drive-In—

"The Last Time I Saw Paris," technicolor picture based on a story by F. Scott Fitzgerald and filmed on location in Paris, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the South Drive-In Theater.

Starring Elizabeth Taylor, Van Johnson, Walter Pidgeon and Donna Reed, it tells the story of the carefree lives of young Americans in Paris after the second World War and their subsequent disillusionment at finding themselves unable to continue life at its peak level.

It tells of the break-up of a happy marriage because of the husband's failure as a writer and of the tragedy of a woman who becomes cynical and embittered when she loses the man she loves to her younger sister.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday is "Sangaree," starring Arlene Dahl and Fernando Lamas.

"Sangaree" is the name of a huge plantation on the outskirts of Savannah, Ga. When its owner dies, he entrusts the estate to his protege, Fernando Lamas, who although the son of an indentured servant, has risen to become a doctor. In his new role as master of the plantation, he meets opposition in the form of his benefactor's daughter, who has ideas of her

Isolation

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

Noah built himself an ark, but I sat up on my hill, near Otis, watching sheets of rain fall upon the peaceful Berkshires. We had two advantages over Noah, one that our telephone continued to function, and secondly, that we had a portable radio which kept us informed of the disaster by moment to moment blows.

We lost our roads early in the situation, so that we could not get to the village of Otis. Many of our friends live in New Boston which is at the bottom of our hill, and we could not help wondering what had become of them.

We soon heard that New Boston was wiped out and so was Winsted. From what we were hearing on the radio, everything was wiped out except our hill. When we plucked up enough courage to use the telephone, it was soon enough quite clear that a very large part of the earth remained.

THAT IS ONE of the advantages of a disaster It reduces us and our circle to a proper proportion in the cosmos. A man may be whatever he chooses to think of himself. He may even be a celebrity, making and unmaking presidents, catered to by head-waiters and pointed out by signature-demanding fans.

Along comes a little rain, really amounting to nothing in the sum total of rains and where is the big man? He is floating about waiting for a little guy in a helicopter to rescue him.

There were some old folks in a house in New Boston who would not be saved by the helicopter. No, sir! They hadn't never been in one of those things and they weren't going.

THEY DID NOT GO and the waters receded and the ancient ones survived, not because they had lived virtuous lives but propably because of the roughness of their hides and the fullness of consumption of fire-water in its multifarious forms.

This has been a tough summer in these parts. First came a drought — a month or more without any rain worth speakng about, which burned the crops and browned the grass and dried the wells and turned the roads into dust. Then came the rain and flood.

A friend of mine had managed somehow to get a crop of corn for his silo and now there is no corn and no silo. But he will manage somehow over the winter, probably earning a living by reconstruction work. And he will build a new silo. Then he will plant a new crop. Also his wife will have another baby soon.

THE GENIUS of man is his ability to take what comes in his stride and to start all over again when disaster overtakes him. It is not necessary to have a hydrogen bomb to make a disaster. Man has been good at that during all the centuries we know about, and nature does its part all the time. It is the amazing agility with which man restores not only himself but his material environment.

In a free society, men and women pitch in to do their share and if anyone wants to see what good natured co-operation and natural-born leadership can be, he ought to be in these parts during the flood.

As soon as the rain let up, a couple of my neighbors were at work, voluntarily, without direction, without compensation, filling in holes in one road, so that it might, with great care and slow driving, be used to get bread and milk for the children.

IT REMINDED ME of the 1923 earthquake in Tokyo, when even while the earth was quaking and the city was encircled by fires, volunteers were moving debris, were searching for bodies and were beginning to set up structures for dwelling purposes.

It was, at first, each man for himself, and then somehow, everything became organized and the world was moving again. No one waited for orders from on high and when they did come, much of the preliminary work had somehow been done.

So, I sat on top of my hill — no newspapers, no mail, no light, not much telephoning, and little on the radio worth hearing. Tell me, is that horror of sound, that raucous atonality, that misery of voice, called western hill-billy, out of New York, sung by male and female, authentic American music?

(King Features Syndicate)

ROBERT STACK and the Japanese actress, Shirley Yamaguchi, shown here, are two of the stars of the Cinemascope film in color, "House of Bamboo," which will be a first-run attraction Wednesday through Saturday at the North Drive-In Theater. Also starred are Cameron Mitchell and Robert Ryan.

26 Teen-Age Girls 9 Men Arrested in Staten Island Raid

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-six teenage girls and nine men have been seized in a police crackdown on an alleged sex ring operating on Staten Island's North Shore beaches and woods.

Authorities said they learned two months ago that the men, mostly in their 20's, were plying the girls —aged 14 to 17—with liquor and marijuana and then taking them to isolated sections on sex parties.

A policewoman posed as a bobby soxer to mingle with the girls at their favorite hangout, a Richmond Ave luncheonette.

The crackdown began Thursday night, with police moving into sections of Elm Park, West Brighton and Graniteville on the island.

The men seized in the roundup were arraigned Friday before Magistrate Michael Potter in Stapleton. Five were released in $500 bail each. The others were held in bond ranging from $1,000 to $5,500.

One girl was held as a juvenile delinquent, two were detained as material witnesses, and the others were sent home after extensive questioning.

1,000 New Boxcars Ordered for Erie

Orders for over 1,000 railroad boxcars during the next several months were announced today by the Erie Railroad in Cleveland.

A total of 550 50-ft. steel boxcars have been ordered from the Greenville Steel Car Co. of Greenville, Pa. Costing a total of $6,937,500, they will be delivered early next year. All but 50 of the cars will be equipped with "damage free" stowing devices for shipping automobile parts and other freight.

At the present time, the Erie Railroad is receiving 300 boxcars ordered from Greenville earlier this year. It also expects to begin receiving the first of a 200 car order in October from General American Transportation Corp. They are also equipped with "damage free" stowing devices.

The Erie is also considering additional purchases later this year. Thus far this year, the Erie has spent $1,600,000 for freight car orders.

Held for Ohio Slaying

HARTFORD, CITY, Ind. (AP)—Richard F. Carlo, 33, of Hartford City, was held today for Ashtabula, Ohio, authorities. He surrendered yesterday after learning he was wanted for questioning in the death of Charles V. McCarty, 29, Detroit, whose body was found in Lake Erie Harbor at Ashtabula July 28. Both men were crew members on a Great Lakes freighter. Carlo waived extradition and was taken to Allen County Jail at Fort Wayne.

Californian Slain On Eve of Wedding

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—City Building Inspector Donald E. Graham was found slain Friday on the eve of his planned marriage and while his fiancee was flying west for the wedding.

Police Chief August G. Kettman said robbery apparently was the murder motive, for Graham sometimes carried large sums of money and was known to have been on a round of night clubs Thursday night, probably in celebration of his impending marriage.

Graham, 60, a widower, was known as a friendly, convivial man. His fiancee, Mrs. Marie Everett, 47, Pittsburgh, Pa., divorcee, arrived at Los Angeles International Airport Friday night, expecting to be met by Graham.

Instead, she was met by police who told her what happened. She collapsed.

Graham's body was found Friday in the blood-spattered kitchen of his home where he lived alone. A sheet, twisted around his neck, also was knotted around his hands behind his back.

RESOLUTION NO. 3944
RESOLUTION DECLARING IT NECESSARY TO IMPROVE CATHERINE AVENUE BY THE CONSTRUCTION OF A CONCRETE SIDEWALK ON THE EAST SIDE THEREOF, FROM JOSEPH STREET TO KLERX STREET.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IS RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Marion, State of Ohio, three-fourths of all members elected thereto concurring:

Section 1. That it is necessary to improve Catherine Avenue by the construction of a concrete sidewalk on the east side thereof, from Joseph Street to Klerx Street.

Section 2. That the grade of Catherine Avenue as improved shall be shown by the Engineer's plans and profiles which are made a part hereof.

Section 3. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of the proposed improvement heretofore prepared by the Engineer and now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service be and the same are hereby approved

Section 4. That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fiftieth and the cost of intersections shall be assessed, by the foot front upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specifically benefited by said improvement and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and Ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, and the cost of construction together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

Section 5 That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in ten (10) semi-annual installments, with interest on deferred payments at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof; provided that the owner of any property assessed may, at his option pay such assessment in cash within thirty days after the passage of the assessing Ordinance

Section 6. That bonds of the City of Marion, shall be issued in anticipation of the collections of assessments, by installments in an amount equal to the cost assessed by the foot front referred to in Section 4 hereof; and notes of said City shall be issued in anticipation of the issue of such bonds.

Section 7. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not specially assessed, including the cost of intersection together with the cost of any real estate or interest therein purchased or appropriated and the cost and expenses of any appropriation proceeding therefore, and the damages awarded any owner of adjoining lands and interest thereon, and the costs and expenses of any such award shall be paid out of the General Fund

Section 8. This Resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Harry Alexander, New Bloomington High School teacher, was the guest speaker when the Caledonia Lions Club met at the Caledonia School Wednesday night. Alexander spoke about his recently-completed year's stay in Greece where he served as an exchange teacher.

At the next meeting on Sept. 14, Kenneth Rexford, electrical engineer with the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. in Mount Gilead, will be the speaker.

Historic Building Being Used Now as a Pig Barn

RACINE, Wis. (UP) — A group of Wisconsin women hopes to convert a pig barn at Belmont into a state monument of an early period of Wisconsin history.

The building, which now houses pigs in southwestern Lafayette County, once was used as the territorial supreme court building before the capital was moved to Madison

The Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs wants to raise funds to restore the building and move it across the road beside the old state capitol near Belmont.

They figure it will cost $25,000, and a fund-raising campaign was started this spring.
